Union President Confers With 3 Federal Trustees

MONTREAL (AP) — Stalled inland ship traffic began moving today after members of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada voted to end their four-day walkout protesting a government trusteeship.

A majority of the 2,000 SIU members along the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence Seaway voted Thursday night to go back to work after their controversial president, Hal C. Banks, met in Ottawa with the three federal trustees appointed Wednesday to take control of Canada's five maritime unions. The walkout had tied up at least 91 inland cargo vessels on eastern waters since Monday.

Agreement With Trustees

Banks told SIU members in Montreal the trustees had agreed not to interfere with the union's internal affairs; that the SIU's officers and its constitution would not be changed; that the SIU headquarters building in Montreal; that the other unions under trusteeship would not be allowed to tamper with SIU members; and that the SIU would appoint a liaison officer to work with the trustees.

In theory, the SIU men were to remain off their ships until all members of the union had voted. But by late Thursday night some were back at work and ships that had been tied up began to move along the Seaway.

"We're moving everywhere," said a spokesman for Canada Steamship Lines, largest of the fleets affected by the walkout.

Calls Poverty Bigger Issue Than Moon Quest

MONTREAL (AP) — Canadian Prime Minister Lester Pearson says it is more important to tackle poverty, hunger, disease and backwardness than to put a man on the moon.

Addressing the Montreal branch of the United Nations Association, Pearson said such adversities "must be met and overcome before the world community can live in peace."

7 Believed Safe in Side Shaft but No Word Received From Remaining 43 Men

HILDESHEIM, Germany (AP) — Trapped by a sudden area, about 17 miles south as flooded from the pool of their own of Hannover, expressed belief ore processing plant, 50 miners construction of a big highway were pinned below the surface approach nearby may have of the Lengede iron mine today weakened the banks.

Seven were reached in a side shaft by a six-inch drill driven from the surface and rescuers worked hard to widen the hole to about 20 inches so a rescue bomb could be lowered to them.

The "bomb" is a bell-shaped bucket into which a man can fit. "We're all in good shape," said a voice through the narrow shaft. "The ventilation is good."

But the good news applied only to the seven.

No Word From 43

Seventeen hours after the mass of water broke into the main shaft of the 300-foot-deep mine Thursday night there was no word from the other 43.

Among them were believed to be three men who first saw what was happening when the pool's shoreline gave way and went down to give the alarm.

Seventy-nine got out in time. More than 600,000 cubic yards of water and mud poured down to the lower level.

Officials explained there was no chance of reaching the trapped men through the main shaft because the flood had made it unusable.

Cause Not Learned

The cause of the pool's break from its bed remained to be determined.

Railway Extends Commuter Trial To Milwaukee

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago & North Western Railway will extend until April 24, 1964, a trial period for commuter service to Milwaukee, a spokesman said Thursday.

When the old North Shore electric commuter line closed down last February, the North Western added service, including morning and evening trains for persons commuting to and from Milwaukee.

The spokesman said the trains, designed for persons living in Waukegan, Ill., Kenosha, Wis., and Racine, Wis., were put on as an experiment until Friday.

Now the trial period is being extended, he said, "so that when we make a permanent decision it will be on the basis of a fair test." He said patronage has not been good.

Rockefeller Hopes to Overtake Sen. Goldwater's Apparent Lead

BY ROBERT T. GRAY ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — "If Dartmouth can come from behind and win the fourth quarter, then why can't we?" Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller asked a small band of his New Hampshire supporters in ringing, pep rally fashion at a private dinner.

His audience understood and cheered the football allusion Rockefeller used to describe his present role in the contest for the Republican nomination for president—that of optimistic underdog.

Draws Parallel

Most of them had watched a few hours earlier as Dartmouth, Rockefeller's alma mater, defeated Holy Cross in the last five minutes of their game. A hard-driving offense and some razzle-dazzle football did the trick.

New York's millionaire governor hopes for a parallel development in his political campaign of Mrs. Rockefeller in the contest with Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater—that he can come, Rockefeller political operation.

from far behind and win the Republican nomination for president. But even his warmest admirers concede privately that the prospects remain bleak.

The governor is mounting a hard-driving offensive and employing a few razzle-dazzle tactics himself.

Elaborate strategy, platitudes and field troops, substantial sums of money and some delicate decisions about the place of Mrs. Rockefeller in the campaign are other factors of the Goldwater—that he can come, Rockefeller political operation.

Adlai Attacked, Cheered During Dallas Speech

Demonstrator Spits At Stevenson in Disorderly Protest

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — One anti-UN demonstrator spat on Adlai E. Stevenson, another changed him on the head with a sign and about 100 milled around him in a disorderly protest Thursday night.

The disturbance occurred after a United Nations Day speech during which Stevenson drew two standing ovations from 1,750 persons jamming the Municipal Auditorium in downtown Dallas.

A front row heckler interrupted him at one point. Police arrested one man in breaking up a crowd gathered around a car in which Stevenson, this country's ambassador to the United Nations, left the auditorium. Another demonstrator was held only briefly.

He appeared startled but unhurt by the blow on his head. Police grabbed a woman carrying the sign.

Tries to Pacify Woman

"Don't arrest her—it could have been an accident," Stevenson said. Then he asked the woman: "What is wrong? Can I help you in any way?"

The woman, who later identified herself to reporters as Cora Fredrickson of Dallas, snarled, "I don't know what's wrong. I don't know why. Everybody else does."

Stevenson turned and walked away. Mrs. Fredrickson, 47, told newsmen she did not intend to strike him but someone jostled her arm as she pushed her placard close for the ambassador to read.

The sign asked: "Adlai, who elects you?"

The arrested man, accused of setting fires, was taken to a police station.

2 Boys Accused Of Setting Fires

RACINE (AP) — Two boys, 10 and 12 years of age, have admitted setting five small fires which caused $100 damage to Grace Lutheran Church earlier in the week, police said Thursday.

The boys were turned over to their parents, pending further action by authorities. They also were suspended from their public school until their parents meet with school officials.

The fires, and other vandalism in the church, were discovered after a rummage sale Tuesday. Fire Chief Russ Anderson said two of the blazes could have caused extensive damage had they not been found soon after they were set.

Evacuation Of 100-Mile Zone Urged

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Evacuation of a 100-mile stretch of South Carolina's beach areas was urged today as hurricane Ginny's 100 mile-an-hour winds bore down on the coast.

The unpredictable Atlantic storm was expected to make its landfall late tonight. The eye may strike to the southwest of Cape Fear, N.C., near the South Carolina line.

Coastal radar and air reconnaissance located the center of Ginny at 11 a.m. at near latitude 32.11 north and longitude 79.4 west or about 65 miles southeast of Charleston. The storm was moving on a northerly course of 8 miles per hour, the Weather Bureau said. Highest winds were estimated at 100 m.p.h. over a small area near the center. Gales extend outward 175 miles over the ocean and about 100 miles southeast of the center.

To Public Shelters

Most low-lying areas in Charleston vicinity were evacuated before noon. Many persons who fled their homes moved into 30 public shelters opened in the area. The shelters, equipped with first aid supplies and nurses, can handle 7,000 persons.

The U.S. Weather Bureau station in Charleston suggested that all schools up to 100 miles inland be dismissed by noon so that school buses would be off the highways by 1 p.m.

If Ginny's hurricane force winds pound ashore in late afternoon, she will hit the coast at high tide. Storm-wise veterans say this is the time of great danger because the combination causes excessive flooding. The Weather Bureau warned that tides up to 9 feet above average low tide are expected. Ginny, which first became a hurricane last Sunday night off the Carolina coast, was reported 80 miles southeast of Charleston. The storm was moving generally toward the north at about 8 miles per hour.

Hurricane warnings were in effect from Charleston northward 150 miles to Cape Fear, N.C.

Due in Afternoon

"Winds of hurricane force may reach the vicinity of Charleston this afternoon and progress up the coast to the North Carolina line tonight," the Weather Bureau said.

Gales from Ginny extended outward 175 miles over the ocean.

2 Americans Die Of Sleeping Sickness

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — At least two Americans have died in an epidemic of encephalitis — sleeping sickness — in Okinawa and the other Ryukyu Islands.

Ryukyuan health authorities say 123 cases have been reported and 21 of them have died.

The latest American victim was Army Spec 5 James W. Gregory, 38, of New York City, who died Tuesday. The Army refused to say if any more of its personnel had been stricken.

Cooler Tonight, but More Warm Days

Fox Cities — Fair this afternoon through Saturday. Cooler tonight, low near 46. High Saturday near 65. Moderate southwest winds.

Appleton — Observations at 10 a.m. today. Temperatures for the 24-hour period: High 76, low 59. Wind velocity: 10 mph west. Barometer: 29.90 and steady. Relative humidity: 89 per cent. Dew point: 57 degrees. Temperature: 64. Skies: cloudy. Rainfall: trace.

Five-day outlook — Temperatures will average 9 to 12 degrees above normal. Continued above normal but with a trend to a little cooler Saturday and Sunday. Turning cooler Tuesday or Wednesday. Precipitation about one-half inch falling as scattered showers throughout the period, with the heaviest Sunday or Monday.

Sun sets at 4:55 p.m., rises Saturday at 6:21 a.m. Moon sets tonight at 10:56 p.m. First quarter today at 11:21 a.m. Prominent star is Vega. Visible planets are Venus, Saturn and Jupiter.

Bonn Reassured About U. S. Keeping Troops in Europe

Date of Easter May be Fixed

Vatican Council Prepared to Accept Universal Calendar

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council voted today to put the Roman Catholic Church on record as willing to accept a fixed date for Easter and a new universal calendar.

The cardinals, patriarchs, archbishops and bishops attending the assembly—by a vote of 2,057 to 4, with 1 null ballot—agreed the council should declare it does not oppose a new perpetual calendar, providing other Christian churches accept it and providing it retains a seven-day week, including Sunday.

Fixed Date for Easter

By a vote of 2,056 to 9, with 1 null ballot, the council fathers declared themselves favorable to fixing the date of Easter on the same Sunday each year.

The votes were on amendments to a chapter in a council schema on liturgy, or public worship. The chapter deals with the Church year — the cycle of liturgical seasons such as Lent and Advent.

The Church would not draw up the calendar reforms, but would leave that to civil authorities.

Airlift Completed in Record Time but Questions Remain

BONN, GERMANY (AP) — The U.S. troop issue to West German government said today the issue of U.S. troop strength in Europe has lost importance because of the reassurances given in Frankfurt by Secretary of the Army Cyrus R. Vance.

Vance said the United States "has no intention of withdrawing any of our six division equivalents which are here" in West Germany.

A government spokesman, Karl Guenther von Hase, told a news conference in Bonn this morning.

Brodhead Farmer National Champ For Picking Corn

MONROE (AP) — Arlyn Zee of Brodhead has found a quick route to the top in National Corn Picking Championships, taking the two-row title Thursday, one day after winning the same crown in the state contest.

The 23-year-old Zee, who farms some 300 acres with his father, had never won a competitive placement until topping the state event.

Zee defeated eight other state champions in taking the national title in competition on the Willis Rierner farm near Monroe. The national event Thursday attracted an estimated 60,000 persons.

Zee was trailed by Wesley Amsdill of Michigan and Lester Fischer of Rulo, Neb.

William Buller of Brookings, S.D., was one of two repeat champions, successfully defending his 1962 picker-sheller title. Ambrose Wegner of Blanchardville, Wis., was second and Don Wiese of Mountain Lakes, Minn., third.

Lawrence Fisher of Palmyra, Mich., repeated as the combine titlist, followed by William Smoots of Monroe, Neb., and Harvey Studt of Elmoat, Mich.

Should OSC Run Area UW Centers?

Regents Told Merger Would Cut Costs, Improve Services

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Should Wisconsin State College at Oshkosh take over the administration of the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center in the Town of Menasha and other centers in northeastern Wisconsin in closer proximity to the Oshkosh College management and staff than to the university in distant Madison?

The ancient question of jurisdictional rivalry between the two elements of the state system of higher education turned up again Friday at a meeting of the board of regents of state colleges.

The discussion was provoked by a report pending before the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education which envisages creation of additional two-year liberal arts instruction branches of the university and the provision of similar branches of the state colleges in various cities during the next 10 years.

Raise Question

The relation of geographical proximity to the operation of such centers and branches was raised by the council of presidents of the state colleges, through President E. H. Klempell of River Falls State College.

He used the Oshkosh and Fox Valley Center situation as an example of what he called an illogical arrangement that might be repeated in other areas of the state later. The Oshkosh school is clearly better able to operate the Fox Valley Center than is the university 100 miles away, he said. There would be economies through such a plan, he asserted.

The regents took no position as a board but members indicated such viewpoints would be put before the Coordinating Committee as it works out its long-range recommendations for the provision of more educational opportunity for college age youth through the decentralization of facilities.

Regent John Thompson of Stevens Point said he is concerned about the prospective ringing of the state college there by a series of University of Wisconsin centers at Wisconsin Rapids, Marshfield, Wausau and other near-by points, but confessed at the same time that he can see no way to alter the arrangements that have evolved thus far.

1st Presbyterian Church Members Select Trustees

NEENAH — Members of the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church of Neenah Thursday elected three members to the board of trustees, five to the board of deacons and six members to the official boards, class of 1966.

New members of the board of trustees are Gerald A'dridge, James Banks and George Dwell.

William Book, Russell Carpenter, Robert Greenwald, Lyle Landrum and Charles Kemps were elected to the board of deacons.

Church members elected to the official boards, class of 1966, were James Buchanan, James Dickson, George Eastwood, Robert Melson, Robert Sparks and Mrs. Donald Scott.

Elections took place during the annual congregation meeting. The Rev. Dr. John E. Bouquet, pastor, moderated the meeting and Stanton Charlton served as chairman. Mrs. Dean Martin was clerk.

Andrew Pertain, chairman of the board of trustees, reviewed church finances during the past 10 years and explained to the congregation, with assistance from Robert Kay, chairman of building and grounds, maintenance of the church. F. C. Shattuck, chairman of the benevolence committee of the session, explained the benevolent work of the church.

Menasha Boy Receives Head Injuries From Accident at School

MENASHA — Eight-year-old David R. Dunning, son of Gene Dunning, 1425 Dunning St., Menasha, was rushed to Theda Clark Memorial Hospital shortly before 10 a.m. today after suffering a severe head laceration at Bethel Lutheran School.

A complete report of the accident was not immediately available. However, the accident apparently occurred while David was playing during recess and fell against a trailer used to transport a roller used to pack asphalt. An earlier report indicated David was found unconscious by fellow students beside the roller.

David was taken to Theda Clark Hospital by Lindv's Ambulance Service. Attendants said he was conscious at the time.

Homecoming Royalty Named

Sue Feren, and John Thome Will Reign at OSC

OSHKOSH—Queen Sue Feren and King John Thome will reign over homecoming festivities at Wisconsin State College, Oshkosh, this weekend. The homecoming royalty was announced Thursday night at a crowning ceremony at Albee Hall.

The queen is an OSC senior and native of Oshkosh. The king is a senior English major from Port Washington who plays half-back on the OSC grid team.

Members of the queen's court are Sharon Bean, Oshkosh, a junior and psychology major in the Liberal Arts division, and Karen Koepfer, Racine, another junior who is majoring in low-level elementary education. Their escorts will be Richard Emerich, a junior from New London, and Warren Krabbe, a senior and defensive football guard from West Allis. Both are members of Periclean and the "O" Club. Emerich plays end on the Titan team and is an upper elementary education major.

Homecoming activities include a parade at 5:30 p.m. today and the queen's dance at 9 p.m. in Reeve Memorial Union. The game with the Stout State College Blue Devils is 1:30 p.m. Saturday followed by a "Toast to the Titans" after the game in the student union and the homecoming dance Saturday night.

Injured When Auto Slips From Jack

Sidney J. Jensen, 64, 1518 Driscoll St., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital Thursday for treatment of injuries he received when a car slipped off a jack and fell on him.

Jensen was repairing the muffler of his car while it was jacked up in City Parking Lot No. 3 near the Washington Street water tower. The car slowly slipped off the jack and came to rest on his legs and hip.

Jensen was able to sit up and summon help from a passerby, Norman Pleier, 207 S. Memorial Drive, who notified police and an ambulance service. The accident occurred about 4:15 p.m.

Award Kimberly Man $20,000 in Damages

Jury Decides Food Chain Failed to Keep Bargain With Joseph Hoffman

A Kimberly man who charged also set the investment figure at that Red Owl Stores Inc., Minn.

neapolis did not hold up its end of bargaining in establishing a store franchise in Chilton during 1961, was awarded $20,000 for damages by a Circuit Court jury in Appleton Thursday.

Joseph Hoffmann, 31, 1351 W. Kimberly Ave., a former store and bakery owner in Wautoma, charged in his action that representatives of the Red Owl firm told him to sell his old store and bakery and put an option on a piece of property in Chilton. Hoffmann charged the store firm originally requested a $18,000 investment on his part, but by January, 1962 had raised the investment figure to $31,000.

Hoffmann asked for damages totaling $30,000 to regain lost profits from the premature sale of his businesses, the cost of the option and the moving expenses from Wautoma to the Fox Cities area.

12-Man Jury

A 12-man jury awarded Hoffmann damages of $16,735 for losses in selling his store and fixtures, $2,000 for the loss in selling his bakery building, $1,000 for an option, $140 for moving expenses and $125 for house rental.

Hoffmann named Edward Lukowitz, Green Bay, Red Owl divisional manager, in the complaint, stating that Lukowitz asked him to sell the store and put no census being taken. He called the option on the land Lukowitz police

Motive of Posed 'Census Taker' Is Parish Puzzle

Police are seeking a man who posed as a census taker for St. Therese Church Thursday and obtained the signature of a former parishioner on a business card.

Church authorities said there has been no census being taken and could not explain what business the man had requesting the signature.

An Appleton man told police he was approached by a man who said the census at the church was being straightened out. The man asked if the Appleton man was a member of the parish and if so, would he place his signature on a card handed him.

After the Appleton man signed the card, the so-called census taker left. The Appleton man said he then remembered he now belonged to the new St. Thomas More parish. He notified the church to make a complaint, and learned there was no census being taken. He called the option on the land Lukowitz police

Little Chute Girl

Identity of Singer at League Fete a Mystery

Post-Crescent News Service

MILWAUKEE — Who was the talented, shapely young miss from Little Chute, Wis., who shared the entertainment spotlight Thursday night at the annual League of Wisconsin Municipalities "bash"?

It remained a mystery today.

Municipal officials and their wives from the Fox Cities and other state communities were on the receiving end of some fine entertainment from performers who recently appeared in clubs at Las Vegas.

The City of Milwaukee, the convention host, picked up the tab for the show-stoppers — some of them who have appeared on several TV shows, including the Ed Sullivan trick.

Little Chute Cutey

The Fox Cities aggregation sat up, took notice and gave out with a burst of applause when the emcee said one of the top-billed songbirds with the group was from Little Chute.

A member of the Joe Eich Singers (three guys and a gal) the cute auburn-haired was featured in several solos and proved to be a real crowd-pleaser.

However, nobody got her name and the group hurriedly left the Hotel Schroeder after their performance to catch a plane.

First reaction in the Appleton area today was that the talented female vocalist may have been the former Judy Schermutzler, who sang under the name of Judy Fay a few years ago at the Camel Club which her father operated at French Road and State 96.

In Phoenix

In recent years Judy, 24, whose professional name is Judy Sunday, has been singing at some of the better clubs across the country and has made a few recordings.

However, Judy, according to her aunt, Mrs. Merlin Lehman of Appleton, is now residing in Phoenix, Ariz. and currently appears at the "300 Club" there.

So, the Little Chute portion of the Joe Eich Singers will have to remain anonymous.

Business

On the business side of the ledger, League delegates elected John N. Kramer, Fennimore city attorney, as its new president, succeeding Mayor Arnold H. Klentz of West Allis. Mayor Roman P. Dennis of Green Bay was elected vice president.

The League also adopted resolutions that:

Condemned the state legislature's action in requiring voting machines for all cities over 10,000 in time for the 1966 fall primary election.

Urged the legislature to "consider and delete" a 3 percent sales use tax on household electricity, the action described as being "discriminatory."

Asked the legislature to repeal the provision of a tax law, which it was claimed, diverted $7.2 million from local to state government by reducing the local governments' share of utility taxes and personal and corporate income.

'Beertown' Reactions Are Mixed

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MILWAUKEE — Folks here in Beertown still are talking about the pending marriage of Milwaukee Downer and Lawrence colleges.

The merger of the two well-known, long established institutions of learning was announced last week and represented quite a surprise package.

That the Downer campus will be sold to the state for expansion of the University of Wisconsin—Milwaukee campus, and the resources and educational programs of the former will be moved to Appleton, prompted in official and unofficial conversations at the Wisconsin League of Municipalities convention here Thursday.

It was learned that Milwaukee officials were taken by surprise when public disclosure was made that Downer, an all-girl school and practically a Milwaukee tradition, is going to pull up stakes and become a part of the Appleton community.

Mixed Reaction

Reaction to the transplant was mixed among Milwaukeeans not connected with the college.

"How did they ever come up with the idea to move Downer up in the boondocks?" asked a Milwaukee alderman.

"A lot of people are going to hate to see the fine school leave Milwaukee," commented another.

It had been general knowledge the Downer enrollment was on the decrease but the feeling is the school's educational program continues to be one of the best.

"Maybe when Downer moves to Appleton the enrollment will pick up," opined another local official who added, "I hear they have a ratio of about one teacher per three to four students."

Downer Missed

Ald Allan Calhoun, in whose ward the Downer campus is sandwiched said the girls' institution would be missed by the Milwaukee community.

However, Calhoun said it had been apparent for some time that "something had to give" in the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee area, which adjoins Downer.

"The traffic problem has been all but uncontrollable because of the extremely heavy vehicular traffic generated by students, teachers and residents in the area," Calhoun said.

He thought the City of Milwaukee might be interested in "making a deal" with the state, after it purchases the Downer property, to buy a strip of land for off-street parking purposes.

Speculation

Prior to the announced Downer-Lawrence consolidation there had been speculation Downer would sell and relocate somewhere in the Milwaukee metropolitan area.

One Milwaukee area official said his daughter is a junior at Downer and intends to come to Appleton next year for her senior year.

Ald Martin Schreiber, president of the Milwaukee Common Council, remarked: "It seems like a good deal for Appleton."

Cost Money

"The merger may indirectly cost me money," Schreiber quipped.

"It seems that his son dates" a Downer underclassman and she, too, plans to continue her education at the Downer College for Women to be located at Lawrence University next year. "He already told me he will be needing some travel money," Schreiber said with a grin.

The Downer College move? There was general agreement it would be Milwaukee's loss and Appleton's gain.

And the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, has been cast in the happy role of giving the "bride" away. It can't lose, either.

Animal Welfare Officers Resign

NEENAH — Two members of the board of directors of the Animal Welfare League here have submitted their resignations, apparently in a conflict of interest with other members.

They are Mrs. William Pryor of Neenah and Edwin Laughlin of Appleton.

The resignations came only two weeks before the official opening of the League's new animal shelter located on County Trunk G. east of U. S. 41.

League members still in office are Charles Lohse, president; Chester Bell, vice president; Mrs. Vincent Springer, treasurer, and Mrs. Alyce Butler, secretary, who compose the League's executive board and are members of the board of directors.

Winnebago Welfare Unit Seeks Five New Members

Salaries Are Included in 1964 Budget

OSHKOSH — Five additional staff members were requested by the county welfare department at Thursday afternoon's Winnebago County Board meeting. The request was referred to the personnel committee.

One worker would be a casework supervisor, three would be caseworkers and the fifth would be a clerk stenographer. Money for their salaries has been included in the 1964 proposed welfare department budget.

The welfare board reported one caseworker was needed because of the increased load of the child welfare unit and the other two caseworkers were needed for the public assistance department because of the increased number of referrals and caseload standards set by the federal and state governments.

Standards These standards require not more than 75 cases per caseworker now and not more than 60 as of July 1, 1964. A third casework supervisor is needed because these standards require not more than five caseworkers for each supervisor.

Welfare Director Norman L. Whitford outlined the department's work during the last year and the increase in the number of cases. The total of 490 referrals to the juvenile court was 108 more than in the previous year, an increase of 28 per cent, he pointed out. The number of children supervised under formal order of the juvenile court increased from 45 to 140.

A total of 1,040 children were given service in the 12 months ending Sept. 30 as compared with 922 the previous year, Whitford said.

Public Assistance

Public assistance cases worked with, came to 1,568 cases during that 12-month period, up from the 1,512 cases the previous year and 1,431 cases two years ago. There were 109 cases pending at the end of the year.

Whitford noted the active caseload was down 24 cases from the previous year even though applications were up 84 cases, the major reason being that twice as many cases were discontinued and denied as were granted.

He also called attention to the granting of seven divorces involving 20 children in circuit court on Aug. 26. Four of those families with 14 children have since applied for help under the aid to dependent children program.

Pleads Innocent Of Taking Car

Dewey A. Armbruster Jr., 29, of Iron River, pleaded innocent in U.S. District Court Thursday in Milwaukee to a charge of transporting a stolen motor vehicle from Birmingham, Ala., to Appleton.

Outagamie County police arrested Armbruster last month and held him until he was turned over to federal authorities previous year, an increase of 28 per cent, he pointed out. The

Deaf Chapters Set Meeting in Neenah Saturday

NEENAH — A round table conference of the Wisconsin Association of the Deaf and the various chapters of the deaf in Wisconsin will be held Saturday at the Neenah Eagles Club, sponsored by the Fox River Valley Association of the Deaf.

The conference will open at 10 a.m. and will continue through the afternoon following a noon luncheon at the club. More than 75 reservations have been received from seven chapters in the state.

A family style dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m., also at the Eagles Club. Kenneth Steinke, Milwaukee, secretary of the state group, will talk about the state fair booth.

An entertainment program of three different acts, including one song in sign, has been arranged by Lloyd Hagen, Neenah chairman of the conference committee. Other members of the committee are Marvin Hirte and David Brethauer of Menasha and Mrs. Earl Hinterthuer of Neenah.

Openings Reported In Twirling Classes

KAUKAUNA — Openings remain in some sections of baton twirling classes and students can be accepted by contacting Mrs. David Nagan, instructor, or James Geritz, recreation director.

Most of the openings are reported in the 4 through 6-year bracket which meets for half hour sessions at 1:10 p.m. on Saturdays. Some openings are also reported in the older student groups. Persons are asked to join classes as soon as possible to aid them in keeping up with the group.

Don Shirley's Genius Has Several Outlets

BY MARGUERITE SCHUMANN

An eminent journalist once observed that by the time a man is half-full of years, every object on which his lamp of thought speaks of what he is, where he has been and what he knows.

That observation is unusually true of Don Shirley, pianist-leader of the Don Shirley Trio which will appear Wednesday evening on the Community Concert Association series in Menasha High School auditorium.

This reporter had the opportunity to visit the pianist's Carnegie Hall studio apartment in New York, and saw first hand that what Don Shirley's lamp of thought falls upon does indeed speak of a remarkable personality.

Keen Sensitivity

The immense, two-story high white cube-shaped room tells of Shirley's keen sensitivity to beauty in its various forms. Floor-to-ceiling windows, overlooking one of Manhattan's screeching canyons, were draped in pale green gauze that billowed in the summer wind. A long, low ebony chest was fronted with a pale silver and gold Oriental screen; ranged on top of the chest was a collection of heavy, simple Swedish glass objects.

Focal point of the massive white fireplace chimney was a six-foot green glass scone, improvised by Shirley himself. The main element in the scone was a chianti bottle with a five-foot neck, given him by Orson Welles. The neck of the bottle was illuminated by a long, slender electric tube. To give a bit of finishing glitter to the bottom, Shirley affixed dime-store glass bangles, holding them firmly in place with a saucer, also glued to the bottom. Sole color accent in the white and pale green room was a pair of vivid purple davenport. There was, of course, a tremendous grand piano that told of Shirley the musician.

Graphic Artist

One wall spoke of Don Shirley the artist and connoisseur for it was covered virtually from floor to ceiling with original works by his friends and himself. The line Don Shirley draws with a crayon is as delicate and deft as the musical line he evokes from the piano. In the graphic arts he has designed sets for television shows and has designed the jackets for some of his 17 recordings.

A profusion of books spoke of Don Shirley the intellectual. He holds a doctorate in psychology, is a Phi Beta Kappa, has studied liturgical arts to become an expert on Ambrosian and Gregorian chant. He knows most of the Middle Eastern languages, and has read the Koran in Arabic. Many of Shirley's friends come from the groves of academe rather than the grooves of Basin Street.

At one significant point in his career, Shirley linked what had been to that point his professional interest in psychology and his avocational interest in music. While Shirley was teaching at the University of Chicago, there occurred a widely publicized series of "thrill killings" in New York's Central Park. Because of "an uninformed attempt to link much of the rampant delinquency with the stimulus of certain types of music," Dr. Shirley was awarded a national grant to study the alleged music-crime relationship.

Unusual Approach His approach to the research was unusual. He devised a number of musical arrangements, offering various combinations of keys, chord progressions and dynamics. While he performed his arrangements in a small Chicago club, his students studied the reactions of his audience. Before the experiment was over, Shirley the musician had "caught on" and was persuaded to play in New York. Since then he has been a full-time musician.

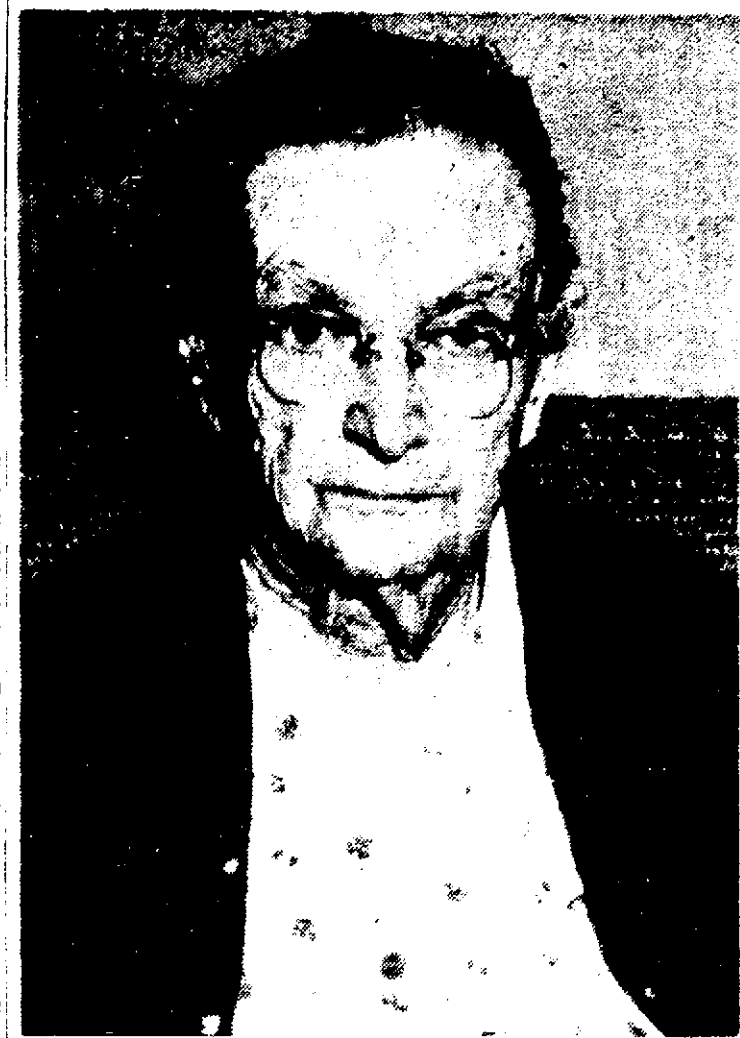

Shirley's brain shows in all his musical stylings. He has a couple of crowd-pleasing tricks, like playing a number with left hand only, but it is his flair as a composer and arranger that is studied by other popular musicians. He is thoroughly respected by long-hair musicians as well. No less a long-hair than Igor Stravinsky said of Don Shirley: "His virtuosity is worthy of the Gods!"

Mrs. Martha Schnell

Life Is Pleasant, Active for Mrs. Martha Schnell at 90

FREMONT — Life is pleasant and fairly active for Mrs. Martha Schnell who observed her 90th birthday here Tuesday.

Mrs. Schnell, who was born Martha Wielke in Oshkosh Oct. 22, 1873, is living out her retirement at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hilda Abraham. Together with her now deceased husband, Ernest, Mrs. Schnell used to operate a fruit and berry farm four miles south of Oshkosh.

Her main pastimes now are sewing, mending, watching television and reading newspapers since her eyesight remains able to aid them in keeping up with the group.

Source of Amusement

One of the greatest sources of amusement for the nonagenarian, who is still able to move freely up and down stairs, is the greater freedom of dress and behavior of people today compared to the customs of her youth.

Mrs. Schnell was a member of the First English Lutheran Church in Oshkosh until she moved to her daughter's home in Fremont 10 years ago. Her one sister, Mrs. Clara Procknow, still lives in Oshkosh.

Besides her daughter, Hilda, Mrs. Schnell has a son, Rufus, Oshkosh, six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Her 17th great-grandchild, a boy, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Abraham, Fremont Tuesday, on her 90th birthday.

On Guidance Center Budget

Taxpayers' Statements Claimed to be in Error

OSHKOSH — There is no backlog of cases waiting for interview or a waiting list at the guidance center nor is there request for additions to the staff, Winnebago County Board members were told Thursday.

Authorized

Fred Kepfield and Jacques Leitzke of the guidance center staff said the statement made Wednesday by representatives of the Neenah-Menasha and Oshkosh Taxpayers Associations about the guidance center budget including $8,000 for an additional psychiatric social worker were in error.

They pointed out the board had authorized such an additional worker last June when it was agreed to have a psychiatrist on a part-time basis and to secure a second psychiatric social worker who began work Oct. 1.

The money in the budget was a continuation of a salary previously authorized and was not a new position, they explained.

Part-Time Workers

The securing of this worker on Oct. 1 has enabled the guidance center staff to complete the interviewing of persons seeking treatment so that requests now can receive immediate attention.

A new psychologist to succeed Dr. John Giebink, who resigned last April, will begin work Jan. 1 and a part-time psychiatrist to succeed Dr. George Arndt, who was on full-time status as psychiatrist and medical director, will begin Dec. 1. He will provide about 16 hours of service a week at a rate of $20 per hour.

They pointed out there had been 164 terminations of persons receiving treatment at the guidance center during the 12-month period up to Oct. 1.

Future Citizens Club Receives National Charter

The Future Citizens of St. Joseph Civics Club, St. Joseph Catholic School, this week received its official charter from the Commission on American Citizenship in Washington, D.C.

The charter formally recognizes affiliation of the local unit with the national organization at the Catholic University of America, Washington. Pupils of Grade 8, Room B5, make up the local club membership.

Officers of the newly organized club are Barbara Lieberman, president; Vince Burgess, vice president; Susan Jens, recording secretary; Barbara Knoll, corresponding secretary; Ruth Spoehr, treasurer, and Robert Molitor, sergeant-at-arms.

The theme of this year's club program is "Guard the Freedom They Won." Club members get help in developing this theme. Miami, said the shipments will be charged against Cuba's 1964 quota under a Cuban-Soviet commercial treaty.

Meat to Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Havana Radio said Thursday night the Soviet Union will send 3,000 tons of canned meat, 900 tons of butter, 8,500 tons of oil and 1,000 tons of milk products to Cuba during the rest of 1963.

The broadcast, monitored in Miami, said the shipments will be charged against Cuba's 1964 quota under a Cuban-Soviet commercial treaty.

Want to Buy a School? 5 Up For Auction

Unused New London Rural Buildings On Sale Saturday

NEW LONDON—Five unused rural schools in the New London Unified School District will be sold at public auction Saturday. Schools which will be sold are Pine Grove School in the Town of Lebanon just north of state 54 between Northport and Royalton; Oakwood School also in the Town of Lebanon, one mile north of County Trunk T. These two schools will be sold in the morning, starting at 9.30 a.m.

Schools which will be sold in the afternoon are Hickory Grove School in the Town of Dale, one-quarter mile north of U.S. 10 on the Shaky Lake Road; Sandy Knoll School in the Town of Caledonia, seven miles south of New London County Trunk W and Oak Grove School, one mile south of New London on County Trunk W.

All of the schools will be sold with the land except Oak Grove, which is located on land which has reverted to the original property owner.

Some personal property, including desks, tables, water fountains, pianos, cabinets and blackboards also will be sold. The sales are being conducted by Don Radtke, realtor and Resh Real Estate. Afternoon sales will start at 1 p.m. at Hickory Grove School.

Charge Man With Tippy Drivng

OSHKOSH — Bond totaling $300 was set for further proceedings Monday for Alan Larkee, 22, 1531 E. Royalton St., Waukegan, charged with drunken driving and causing personal injury by negligent operation of an automobile.

Larkee asked for time to consult an attorney before entering a plea.

He was the driver of a car which struck Yvonne Semrau, 18, 1904 N. Main St., Oshkosh, as she walked along U.S. 45 north of the Oshkosh city limits, at 10 p.m. Thursday, police said. She was not seriously injured.

The Wisconsin Council of Agriculture honored these men in Madison Thursday night for distinguished service to farming. They were, from the left, Dean Rudolph Froker, U.W. College of Agriculture; Walter Rowlands, U.W. professor of agricultural economics; the Rev. Robert Frerichs, dean of the Rural Church Center, Green Lake; Marshall Wiley, son of ex-Sen. Alexander Wiley, who accepted the honor for his father; Floyd Durfee, U.W. professor of agriculture. (AP Wirephoto)

Named to New Utility Post

E. V. Krueger Is Assistant Industrial Relations Director

Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. has announced the appointment of E. V. Krueger to the newly created position of assistant director, industrial relations. He had been the firm's safety director and will continue with the responsibilities of that office. Krueger started with the power company in 1941 as a junior engineer. He was named senior engineer in 1952 and in 1953 became a safety inspector. Two years later he was named safety director, the position he held at the time of his new appointment.

A native of Bonduel, Krueger attended the University of Wisconsin where he majored in mechanical engineering. He was a member of the Appleton Board of Education for more than seven years and served as president of that body in 1959. He resigned from the board and ran successfully for the post of alderman in Appleton's 11th ward and is serving in that capacity. Krueger is on the board of directors of the Appleton Kiwanis Club, a former commander of the Bonduel American Legion post and a member of the Masonic Lodge. He, his wife Lorraine and four sons live at 1707 S. Carpenter St. in Appleton.

Confesses He Killed His Disabled Son

WISCONSIN RAPIDS (AP) — "I knew that he couldn't take care of himself if I was gone," said a Wood County farmer who pleaded guilty Thursday to a reduced charge of second degree murder in the death of his 21-year-old son in June.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered for Hiram D. Sickles Sr., 60, by County Judge Frederick Fink. Sickles and his son, Hiram Jr., shared a home on a cranberry marsh in the Town of Cranmoor.

The father said his son was in constant pain because of a disease of the legs. Sickles said he shot his son to death after he himself had suffered two slight heart attacks.

Sickles' wife died several years ago.

4 Lyceums Set At High School

Fox Valley Lutheran Programs to be on Snakes, Birds, Judo

Lyceums at Fox Valley Lutheran High School this year will feature subjects ranging from snakes and pigeons to judo.

A 12 to 16 foot python snake, raised from birth by its handler, will be featured at the lyceum "Snakes Alive" Nov. 5.

According to snake enthusiast Lew Johnson, this program is planned to "create a better understanding and appreciation of our friends, the snakes."

"Judo Revelations—American Style" will be sponsored by FVL's Judo Club Jan. 29. Speaking will be Irvin Morgan, American style judo demonstrator and lecturer. Morgan is a judo instructor for the Navy and for law enforcement agencies.

He will demonstrate, with the assistance of students from the audience, how judo tactics can enable any individual to overcome his assailant. Throws, trips and pressure holds will be shown.

"It's For the Birds" will be presented March 21 by FVL rector and will continue with the Vice-Principal Gerhard Kaniess. This program will consist of slides and an explanation of pigeon racing as a sport. The rector will also exhibit several of his pigeons—but there will not be a race.

A literary lyceum is set for May 7. The Rev. Erwin Ploetz, Dale will present a program on the development of history and literature in England and Scotland. Slides of these areas will be shown.

Judge Orders Dismissal of Battery Appeal

An order to dismiss an appeal by Willard Van Handel, 55, 903 N. Depot St., Little Chute, convicted of battery of his sister, Ruth Hartjes, was issued today by Circuit Judge A. W. Parnell.

Judge Parnell said the ruling of the County Court jury which found Van Handel guilty of the Oct. 30, 1962, offense would be accepted, and Van Handel's fine of $200 will have to be paid. Van Handel was tried in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 in March. After the conviction, he filed an appeal to the Circuit Court and requested another jury trial. Trial had been set for today, but Judge Parnell said he understood from Van Handel's attorney, Urban Van Susteren, that Van Handel was not going to prosecute the appeal. Judge Parnell ordered the jury not to appear Friday morning.

Mrs. Hartjes, in her complaint against her brother, said that she was beaten and pushed from her brother's home in October, 1962, and that she was hospitalized 10 days from the beating. She filed her complaint through Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer.

17 Ordered to Appear Before High Court in Appointments Fight

MADISON (AP) — Seventeen persons who claim top Wisconsin state office positions held by others, were served with court orders Monday. They were ordered to appear before the Wisconsin Supreme Court Friday to show cause why the court should not take original action to test their right to the jobs.

The orders advised the appointees to respond to a case started by Atty. Gen. George Thompson, a Republican, to test the power of Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds to make appointments while the Senate is not in session.

Reynolds claims he has the right to appoint new persons to jobs held by incumbents whose terms have expired without Senate confirmation.

5 Men Feted By Agriculture Cooperatives

UW Educators, Clergyman and Wiley Honored

Post-Crescent News Service

MADISON—Three educators, a clergyman and a former U.S. senator were honored by the Wisconsin Council of Agriculture Cooperatives here Thursday evening.

Recognized for important contributions to agriculture and rural living, they included:

Rudolph I. K. Froker, dean of the University of Wisconsin College of Agriculture, and Profs. Floyd W. Duffee and Walter A. Rowlands, of the College of Agriculture, the Rev. Robert T. Frerichs, of the American Baptist Assembly, Green Lake, and Alexander Wiley, who served 24 years as a senator.

The citations were conferred by the Council of Agriculture at its traditional recognition banquet. Attended by 326 persons, it was a social interlude during the organization's 35th annual conference.

Wiley Not Present
Wiley, who was unable to be present, was represented by his son, Marshall, a farmer and lawyer at Chippewa Falls. The other four received their scrolls in a cross, according to police. No dollar estimate of damage was available.

Laurel Behnke, Clintonville, al relations," Behnke added.

vice president of Badger Breeders Cooperative, read the citations. The scrolls were presented by Truman Torgerson, Manitowish, Council of Agriculture president and manager of the Lake to Lake Dairy Cooperative. Froker was honored for numerous achievements and his leadership during his career at the University of Wisconsin which began in 1927. He has been dean of the College of Agriculture since 1948.

Duffee, recently retired head of the agricultural engineering department, was credited with helping lighten the hard labor of farming and bringing better standards for rural living.

Rural Zoning
Prof. Rowlands was commended for his pioneering and continuing work in rural zoning and land use planning.

The spiritual welfare of farm people has been the lifelong concern of the Rev. Mr. Frerichs, Behnke said. He has served Baptist churches in Oregon, Ohio and Illinois, and for several years has been in charge of the famous Assembly ground at Green Lake.

Wiley was commended for his long fight to make the St. Lawrence Seaway a reality. Behnke predicted that the water route will play an increasingly important role in the economic well-being of the Middle West.

Sen. Wiley's statesmanship helped to safeguard farmers and their co-operatives, strengthened economic solidarity with Canada, and improved international relations," Behnke added.

Korean Teacher Gives Recital at Fox Valley Center

Dr. Won Kyung Cho, Korean visiting professor of speech at the University of Wisconsin in Madison, presented a Korean dance lecture-recital Thursday night at the UW Fox Valley Center.

The program was sponsored by the Center's Fine Arts Club.

Dr. Won traditional dances of his homeland, including a court dance, and folk forms. Colored slides of Buddhist ritual dances and characteristic dance movements of different Asian cultures were incorporated into the program.

Dr. Won has been in the United States since 1960, participating in a cooperative program that includes teachers from various Asian countries. He holds a graduate degree in Korean literature and an honorary degree in fine arts from Monmouth College, Ill.

Luther was not a "renegade priest" . . . nor was he a heretic. By God's grace, Luther was a man who rediscovered the ONLY source of a Christian's faith — the Holy Bible. Sweeping away the man decided teachings of the "church," he found the central doctrine of Scripture.

"Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to His mercy He saved us." Titus 2, 5.

As Martin Luther went deeper into God's Word he discovered that Scripture is God's revelation of Himself and His plan of man's salvation.

The congregations affiliated with the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod, and which also sponsor this service, are churches that "follow in the train of the apostles and prophets." They are congregations conducting their ministries in their communities using God's Word alone as the basis of their worship and work.

If you want to know more about the "REFORMATION" contact any of the pastors of the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod near you. They will be glad to answer any questions you might have concerning this historical manifestation of God's grace.

Appleton High School's offensively-classy, defensively - solid football team will try to advance its 1963 title aspirations at home for the final time Saturday afternoon.

The Terrors, currently deadlocked with the two Sheboygan entries in the bitterly-contested Fox River Valley Conference title chase, meet dangerous Green Bay West in their Goodland Field finals. Game time is 1:30 p.m.

The skirmish, in which AHS continues pursuit of its first title in six years and seeks its first victory over West in seven campaigns, matches the conference's two best vardage-bunting teams.

Despite fielding its lightest defensive unit in years—not a player over 190 pounds—the Terrors have yielded only 728 yards—an average of 145.6 per league game is not certain. If Hietpas doesn't start, Jim Bertschy will likely get the call at fullback, with Tilkens again filling in on defense.

Gain Support

Safety Bertschy and end Rick Martinek also won voting support for their defensive work at East. Left half Joe Bowers won the "Terror of the Week" award on offense. Besides catching a touchdown pass from Chuck McKee, Bowers did a fine job running and blocking.

McKee, who tossed two TD passes, also garnered some votes from his teammates — as did Tom Callaway, who played perhaps his best all-round game.

The Ade Dillon-coached Terrors will be looking for a Turn to Page 5 Col. 2

South Africa Leads in Battle For Canada Cup

Waltman, Player Leads Palmer and Nicklaus by 1

BY JOHN FARROW
PARIS (AP) — South Africa fired ahead at the halfway mark in the Canada Cup golf matches Friday behind the steady play of the lesser-known member of its two-man team, Retief Waltman, as the favored United States slipped back into a three-way tie for second.

Waltman's three-under-par 69 and a 70 by international star Gary Player gave South Africa a 36-hole total of 277 and a one-stroke edge over the United States' Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, Canada and Spain.

The Americans are defending the cup against two-man teams from 32 other countries over the suburban Saint-nom-la-Bretteche course.

Palmer, with a string of three straight birdies on the front nine, posted a 70 and Nicklaus, after an erratic first nine, finished at even par 72. Palmer apparently was not bothered by the aching back that troubled him Thursday, but was considerably annoyed by photographers.

Tied for First

Canada's Al Balding and Stan Leonard, tied for first with the United States at 136 after Thursday's opening round, each had a 71.

Sebastian Miguel of Spain, individual first round leader with a 69, was tied for 10th.

Bruhn Calls Clash With Ohio State Key Game of 1963

Wisconsin Seeks to Remain Unbeaten in Big 10 Feature

MADISON (AP)—Ohio State, the key game on the schedule because a victory could give us the momentum that can keep us up there," Bruhn said.

The Badgers welcomed back to practice this week veteran safetyman Ron Frain, who was sorely missed in Wisconsin's shaky 10-7 victory over Iowa last week.

"Now if (Ralph) Kurek's ankle holds up, I guess you'd have to say we'll be ready," Bruhn said. Kurek, the squad's regular fullback, saw only limited duty against Purdue and Iowa.

Ohio State also is having some troubles at fullback, with Regular Matt Snell still listed as a doubtful entrant due to a rib injury. Bruhn expects Willard Sander to operate as a stand-in for Snell.

A Bruhn-coached team did beat Ohio State in a 12-3 squeaker in 1959. The teams A Wisconsin scouting report detailed 7-7 in 1958, and the Buckeyes have won the other five engagements since Bruhn took over in 1956.

Wisconsin, the nation's second-ranked team, is leading the conference with victories over Purdue and Iowa.

GREEN BAY (AP)—"I guess I'd take the football and go home," joked Green Bay Packer Coach Vince Lombardi Thursday when asked what would be the next move if anything happened to reserve quarterback John Roach in Sunday's National Football League game with the Colts in Baltimore.

Roach, who has been on the bench most of his three seasons with Green Bay, will call the signals when the defending champion Packers, tied for first in the Western Division, seek their sixth straight victory in the game with the Colts.

Roach will replace Bart Starr, who suffered a "hairline fracture" in his right hand in last Sunday's 30-7 victory over the Cardinals. Backing up Roach

Koufax Wins Young Award Unanimously

Dodger Southpaw Voted Game's Best Pitcher

BOSTON (AP)—To the surprise of no one in baseball, Sandy Koufax won the Cy Young Award as the outstanding pitcher in the major leagues.

And just as his team, the Los Angeles Dodgers, swept the World Series from the New York Yankees in four straight games so, too, did the stylish southpaw sweep the voting by the designated committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America announced Thursday.

It was Koufax No. 1 on all the 20 ballots cast, the first unanimous choice since Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick established the award eight years ago.

"I can understand why the vote was unanimous," Frick said. "Koufax not only is a wonderful pitcher, but he has a great personality and terrific hold on the baseball public."

Denmark Ties Omro '11' for Little 9 Lead

Winneconne Posts 33-0 Victory Over Shiocton

LITTLE NINE CONFERENCE
Denmark	6	1	0
Omro	5	1	0
Hilbert	5	2	0
Winneconne	5	2	0
Freedom	3	3	0

Thursday's Results:
Denmark 13, Hilbert 7.
Winneconne 33, Shiocton 0.

Tonight's Game:
Hortonsville at Omro.

Saturday's Game:
Freedom at Reedsville.

Denmark High School pulled into a tie for the Little Nine Conference lead Thursday night by edging Hilbert, 13-7, in a hard-fought game at Denmark.

The Vikings took a 13-0 half-time lead then held off a comebacking Hilbert team in the second half. Denmark lost Leon Rasmussen, star quarterback, late in the second quarter when he jammed the thumb on his passing hand.

Rasmussen scored on a 1-yard run in the first period after he hooked up with halfback Bob Kozlovski on a 70-yard pass play. Rasmussen kicked the extra point.

Rasmussen scored on a 15-yard run in the second quarter to cap a 50-yard drive.

Hilbert scored in the fourth quarter on its own only pass completion in 14 tries — a big, 67-yard play. Jerry Hackbarth to Keith Schwalenberg. Borne-man ran the extra point.

Three other times, the Wolves penetrated to the Denmark 20 or beyond but were stopped. In the final minute, Kozlovski intercepted a Hilbert pass on his own 10 yard line.

Hilbert posted a 12-8 first down edge and a 163-112 rushing edge. Denmark outgained the Wolves through the air, 145 to 67. Rasmussen completed five of six passes, but the Vikings completed none of six after he left.

Winneconne's Ken Wiesner scored two touchdowns in a 33-0 victory over Shiocton last night. The Wolves led, 13-0, at the half and added 13 in the third period and seven in the fourth.

Omro plays host to Hortonville tonight.

The Scot attack features three quarterbacks, who specialize in different categories. One of the trio is a long pass artist, another is a good runner and another is the tactician of the team.

Gerald Allison (220 pounds) and Jack Garrett anchor the defensive line for the Scots.

Only 337 yards have been gathered by opponents on passes against the Scots—best aerial defensive record in the MC.

rors are the second hardest-to-score-on team in the FRVC — allowing 32 points in five games. North has given 29.

In all games, AHS has averaged 19.7 per game, while permitting only 5.3. GBW has averaged seven points a game while allowing 12.2.

Appleton is a close third in total FRVC offense, with 1,276 yards. South took over the lead with its league record accumulation in the 62-7 route of Fond du Lac. The Redmen, who had gained only 694 yards in four games combined, covered 644 in the 48 minutes last Saturday at Fondy.

The dynamic McKee, who guides the AHS offense, has thrown five touchdown passes in six games (including one against non-conference Menasha).

He ranks third in FRVC passing yardage (324 yards) seventh in rushing (with a 5.3 - yard average on 48 carries) and is tied for sixth in league scoring with teammate Hietpas—at 24 points.

Kramer Leads Hietpas ranks sixth in ground gaining—with a 273-yard total and a 4.1 average. Manitowoc's Pete Kramer leads with 478 yards.

AHS boasts two of the league's top eight receivers in Ken Kitzinger and Callaway—They have caught nine and seven passes, respectively. Callaway's total of 145 yards is third best in the circuit.

Twenty-six Terrors will be planning their final prep football game at home. They include regulars or semi-regulars Callaway, Bowers, Bertschy, Hietpas, McKee, Kitzinger, Tilkens, Martinek, Tom Bauer, Brian Bock, Bill Feind, Mark Feltheim, Russ Grobe, Jim Mahlock, Tom Karrow, Ted Olson, Ron Reick, Tom Romanesco, Chip Taggart, Bill Van Bueuing; and reserves Chuck Hoepfner, Steve Hubin, Dean Mueller, Dan Wadie, Bill Walker and Bud Wiley.

Dave Farr and Rick Hempel share the West quarterbacking. The Wildcats' top ball-carrier is halfback Larry Mann, who has gained 224 yards in 88 tries. Mike Baye and Bill Bader are other backfield threats.

The leading West linemen are Carl Saari (who played fullback last year), center Chuck Cole, end John Biolo, Jr., and Larry Kornowski.

Four former Appleton High School stars are important cogs in the Eau Claire State College football team which is shooting for the school's first unbeaten season since 1920.

Jerry Gendron, Dave LaViolette, Brian Zordell and Marv Hietpas are regulars for Eau Claire, which leads the State College Conference with a 5-0 record and is 6-0 for the season.

Saturday night, Eau Claire bids for the championship when it plays host to third place Superior in its final game of the season. The assignment is a tough one, since the Yellow Jackets handed Stevens Point its first loss last Saturday.

Gendron, a big sophomore end, leads the SSCOM in touchdown pass receptions and has set a school record with six. He has made 19 catches for 237 yards.

The 6-4 Gendron is third in conference scoring (36 points) and ranks third in receiving. Oshkosh's Dick Emerich (former New London High school star) and Stevens Point's Jim Hackbart have three more league receptions than Gendron.

Gendron also does the team's punting, and has averaged about 33 yards a kick.

Gains 231 Yards LaViolette, a both-ways senior back, is the second leading ground gainer on the team (231 yards in 54 tries) and ranks 12th in conference rushing.

LaViolette, who was an all-conference defensive choice last year, ranks second in pass receiving to Gendron, with 10 for 15 in the first game was just the icing on the cake. The award is given on regular season performance only.

Blazing Fast Ball Like the strikeout kings of the past such as Walter Johnson and Bob Feller, the 27-year-old Koufax displayed a blazing fast ball that helped him set a National League record of 306 k's in 311 innings. A sharp curve and a change of pace contributed to the bewilderment of the batters as Koufax won 25 games, and lost only five in leading the Dodgers to the National League title.

His achievements included a no-hitter against San Francisco in May and a 1.88 earned run average, the lowest in both leagues. He hurled 20 complete games and hung up 11 shutouts, the most ever in one season by a left-hander and the most in the majors since Grover Cleveland Alexander, a right-hander, posted 16 for the Philadelphia Phillies in 1916.

Hand Says Packers and Giants Will Triumph

BY JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Brown and friends are poised to deliver the knockout blow to the New York Giants Sunday in the most important National Football League game of the week. A victory for Cleveland would leave the defending Eastern champs three games back with seven to go.

The Browns' front four of Paul Wiggan, Frank Parker, Bob Gain and Bill Glass put tremendous pressure on Y. A. Tittle while Brown romped in Cleveland's 35-24 victory at New York two weeks ago. The Giants' toughened up in the second half last week against Dallas but there was no Jimmy Brown thundering into that line.

Green Bay will find out how it can move the ball without Bart Starr when the Packers invade Baltimore and Chicago will try to bounce back from that upset in San Francisco by playing the injury-riddled Philadelphia Eagles. St. Louis will be at Washington, Dallas at Pittsburgh, Minnesota at Detroit and San Francisco at Los Angeles in other NFL games.

Misses an Upset
Last week's upset didn't come off (Green Bay thumped St. Louis 30-7) but we're still keeping our head above water with a 37-25-4 for the year. Here's the way it looks this week with all games Sunday unless otherwise indicated:

NFL
New York 28, Cleveland 27—What? After the way Jimmy Brown ran over the Giants at Yankee Stadium? Brown will roll again. You can't stop him. But Y. A. Tittle should get better protection and a little more variety with Alex Webster for those screen passes.

Green Bay 24, Baltimore 17—Packers will miss Bart Starr but they still have Jim Taylor to help John Roach. Vince Lombardi will have the Packers whipped up to show they can win without Starr. Colts in good spot for an upset but that packer defense is too tough.

Chicago 28, Philadelphia 7—Without Sonny Jurgensen the Eagles are in trouble. Bears will be hungry for red meat, returning home after that surprise in San Francisco.

Pittsburgh 27, Dallas 21—With John Henry Johnson back in action, Steelers too tough for Cowboys' defensive unit.

St. Louis 28, Washington 21—Cardinals anxious to hit somebody after loss to Packers. (Charlie Johnson should shred that Skin pass defense.

Detroit 25, Minnesota 21—Could go either way with Lions' defense hurting minus Joe Schmidt. Even Detroit's sputtering offense should come to life against Vikings.

San Francisco 21, Los Angeles 20—Flip a coin. Both teams weak on attack, better on defense. Give Lamar McHan an edge over Roman Gabriel.

AFL
New York 28, Denver 24—Saturday night—Weeb Ewbank has lost two in a row but so have battered Broncos. If Dick Wood can't hit against Denver, Weeb will go to Galen Hall.

Boston 23, Buffalo 19—Saturday night — Bills are crippled with Roger Kochman latest to be lost. Pats have extra threat of Gino Cappelletti's field goals although home team usually wins in AFL.

San Diego 28, Oakland 17—Chargers are breezing to West pennant and Raiders have lost four in a row until they met Jets.

Houston 24, Kansas City 21—Too much George Blanda, arm and toe.

Dick Walker rolled a 228 singleton, and Francis LeNoble rapped a 604 series to set the pace in the Men's Major League at the Bowling Bar, Kaukauna. Thilco, with 24 points, holds a 4-point lead over Trude Jewelers. Other high scores were hit by Dick Walker, 564; Ray Diedrich, 579; Norm Lenz, 553; Alois Peters, 568; Jack Leddy, 567; John Riehl, 590; Leo King, 552; Harold Winkler, 557, and Lee Lambie, 577.

Bonnie LeNoble rolled a 531 series, and Don LeNoble hit 237 and 588 to share honors in the Lily River Couples League at Little Chute Recreation.

Gertie Marquardt hit a 202 game for the lone other honor score.

Tom Albers hit 226 and 576, and Cletus Gaffney a 552 to lead the National League at Jerry's Lanes, Kimberly.

Lois Ashel Produces 213 'Coffee' Game
Lois Ashel led the Wednesday Afternoon Bowling League at the 41 Bowl with a 213 game. Manor House (14-2-6-2) tops the standings.

Guglielmi Signs With Eagles

Former Giant to Help Make Up for Loss of Jurgensen

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Ralph Guglielmi signed Thursday with arch-rival Chicago Bears out of the National Football League's Philadelphia Eagles, bolstering a quarterback corps depleted by an injury to star Sonny Jurgensen.

Jurgensen suffered a chip fracture of the right shoulder and jammed shoulder muscles against Cleveland last Sunday. He will be replaced this weekend against the Chicago Bears by King Hill, and Guglielmi will back up Hill.

The Eagles reportedly had to pay well to acquire the services of the seven year veteran. They reportedly had to guarantee him a job for the balance of the season.

Insures Pension
In joining the Eagles, Guglielmi insured his NFL pension. The one-time Notre Dame All-American needed only one more game to qualify for his pension when the New York Giants recently traded him to San Francisco.

Green Bay also reportedly was interested in Guglielmi, because of a broken hand suffered last week by Bart Starr. The Eagles had first chance since they were lower in the standings than the Packers.

Bowling Tips BY DON CARTER AND MARION LADEWIG

Lean Forward

The bowling motion must be fluid to produce the best results. Good fluidity means good balance. One way to help you stay in balance is to lean forward slightly as you start to bring the ball back in the downswing (see illustration). If you don't, you may allow the ball to drop too abruptly.

Seek to Avert Double Whammy

Bears Hope to Bounce Back Against Eagles and King Hill

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago champion Green Bay no thanks. Cardinals moved to St. Louis in again, to the Cardinals whose 1960, but they may have left a own prestige sagged in a 30-7 couple of transplanted ghosts Packer trimming

City Crowd
Sunday, a Wrigley Field capacity crowd of 48,000 will see if the Bears can shake off the effects of their personal San Francisco earthquake.

Hill, whose Cardinal career in the late 1950's overlapped McHan's, is starting in place of No. 1 Eagle signal-caller Sonny Jurgensen, injured as Philadelphia was clouded 37-7 last Sunday by the Cleveland Browns. The Bears carry a 5-1 mark against the Eagles' 2-3-1 record.

But as Bears' Coach George Halas said Thursday: "That San Francisco game—which I want to forget completely—showed you can't take anything for granted in our league. When two National League clubs meet, records and performances don't mean a thing! The lowly may rise up and the mighty may fall. We sure did against a winless San Francisco team."

The 68-year-old Halas was not all gloom. "Our players are not depressed," he said. "They're going out to win this game Sunday. Maybe we'll be tougher in the weeks ahead off the lesson we learned at San Francisco."

"I don't regard the Eagles any less respectfully with Hill replacing Jurgensen. Hill is big, strong and dangerous. He's a good one."

McCabe (17-4), which has won nine straight lines, leads the race by three games.

In the Women's Monday Night League at 12 Corners, Mary Jane Wilson set the pace with a 199 game. The 12 Corners team (17-4) leads by one game.

Chuck Deeg Rips 258 Singleton

Chuck Deeg slammed a 258 line and a 605 series to capture honors in the most recent session of the Valley Iron Works Bowling League at the Barn Tavern.

Art Brower manufactured a 599 series. Sam Cook posted a 561. Salvage (15-9) leads Foundry by one half game.

Berra 'Congratulated' By His Former Mates

NEW YORK (AP)—Yogi Berra received a congratulatory telegram from two long-time teammates, Mickey Mantle and Whitey Ford, shortly after he was named manager of the New York Yankees Thursday. It read:

Illinois Will Meet UCLA '11' Tonight

Pitt and Navy Battle in Saturday's Feature Game

BY MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Illinois, unbeaten, once-tied and ranked fourth among the college football powers, takes on UCLA, beaten four times, at Los Angeles tonight but don't think for a moment that the Illini are taking it all lightly.

It's not that Coach Pete Elliott and his aroused Illini fear the Bruins. It's more a case of savoring each victory after two lean seasons where a single triumph was as sweet as a Rose Bowl conquest.

Illinois was 9-9 in 1961 and 2-7 in 1962 and just about this time last year the Illini were staggering from their 15th straight defeat, a 28-16 loss to Southern California.

Now the youngsters who absorbed these pastings for two years have jelled. With quarterback Mike Taliaferro and line-backing center Dick Butkus in the stellar roles they are contenders for the Big Ten title and a shot at the Rose Bowl. The Illini are 4-0-1 over-all and 2-0-1 in the conference. A week ago they whacked Minnesota 16-6.

A Young Team

UCLA is a young team just like Illinois was a year ago. The Bruins are 1-4-0 over-all but are tied for first in the Big Six with Washington, each 1-0-4 a week ago the Bruins showed promise despite a 27-12 loss to Notre Dame.

Although Pitt, 4-0, is one of the seven remaining unbeaten-untied major teams and is ranked third to Navy's tenth the Mid-dies are favored to win by about a field goal on their home grounds. Pitt comes off a 13-10 squeaker over West Virginia while Navy had its troubles, too, with VMI.

Texas, the all-conquering, top-ranking team of the nation, is another high-riding outfit that won't take an underdog foe for granted. The Longhorns, 5-0-0, are at home at night against Rice, 3-1-0. It was just a year ago that a winless Rice team tied a Texas eleven that also was 5-0-0 and ranked No. 1. Texas is favored by about two touchdowns.

Of the other games featuring teams in the top ten, close contests are expected in only the games matching Big Ten Conference rivals.

Entertains OSU
Second-ranked Wisconsin, 4-0-0 entertains Ohio State, 2-1-1, and ninth-ranked Northwestern, 4-1-0 is host to Michigan State, 2-1-1. The Buckeyes, only one of the four to lose last week, may rebound from its 32-3 shelling by Southern California.

Fifth-ranked Mississippi, 3-0-1, is home to winless Vanderbilt, 0-4-0; hapless Houston, 0-5-0 visits its sixth-ranked Alabama, 4-1-0, and seventh-ranked Oklahoma, 3-1-0, travels to Kansas State, 1-4-0. Eighth-ranked Auburn, 5-0-0, is idle.

In addition to Texas, Wisconsin, Auburn and Pitt, the tiny unbeaten-untied group includes Dartmouth, 4-0, Princeton, 4-0, and Bowling Green of Ohio, 5-0. Dartmouth, which has won 15 straight for the longest current victory streak among major colleges, will have plenty to handle from unbeaten Harvard 2-0-2, in a key Ivy Leaguer at Cambridge, Mass. Princeton, one of the few remaining single wing teams, is at home against dangerous Cornell, 2-2-0. Bowling Green has a breeze at Kent State, 0-3-1.

Mississippi State, a Southeastern Conference power, and Memphis State, one of the new rich teams to be reckoned with, furnish an interesting battle between unbeaten, once-tied teams. Each is 4-0-1. Memphis State started the upset season by tying Mississippi, 0-0. Mississippi State was tied 9-9 by Florida, the surprise conquerors of Alabama.

The national television game matches Notre Dame, 2-2, against Stanford, 1-4, at Stanford, Calif.

Starting time is 3:30 p.m. EST.

Other top games Saturday include: EAST—Washington State-Army, Massachusetts-Boston U., Rhode Island-Brown, Lehigh—Columbia, West Virginia-Penn State, Colgate-Yale, and Oregon State-Syracuse.

SOUTH — Duke-North Carolina State, North Carolina-South Carolina, Louisiana State-Florida, Georgia Tech-Tulane, Clemson—Virginia, Maryland-Wake Forest, Chattanooga-Tennessee, Furman-The Citadel, Virginia Tech-Florida State, George Washington-Villiam and Mary.

SOUTHWEST — Tulsa-Arkansas, Texas Tech—Southern Methodist, Baylor-Texas A&M, Wichita—North Texas State, Arizona-West Texas State.

MIDWEST—Michigan-Minnesota, Iowa-Purdue, Colorado—Nebraska, Oklahoma State-Kansas, Missouri-Iowa State, Cincinnati-Indiana, Detroit-Davidson, Ohio U.-Miami, Ohio, Villanova-Xavier, Ohio.

PACIFIC WEST—Southern California-California, Washington-Oregon, Notre Dame-Stanford, Boston College-Air Force Academy, Pacific-Utah State, Wyoming-Utah.

Bad. Most young people need help in planning the kinds of recreation that will be really good fun. Left to their own devices, many young people are bored, uneasy, and drift into the unwholesome activities that are not really fun in any real sense. Parents, teachers and leaders who help their youngsters enjoy graduated opportunities for becoming more socially competent are rewarded by seeing their teen-agers have a really good time in wholesome settings in ways that lead to further pleasure and growth later on. Such things are worth considering seriously in today's modern communities.

Family problems. Studies of this have been done by Wilbur Schramm of the University of Illinois Institute of Communications. He found that the perils of life portrayed in confession magazines focused on family life. Broken homes played important parts in the family history of 38 per cent of the stories, and 44 per cent of them reported their own marriages were on the verge of breaking up. One out of five of the characters remembered unpleasant scenes in their parents' marriages — often cited as the reason for present problems.

Council Head Raps NFO Policy, Plans

BY RAY PAGEL
Post-Crescent News Service

MADISON — Tactics and theories of the National Farmers Organization (NFO) were blistered here Thursday as the Wisconsin Council of Agriculture Co-operatives opened its 35th annual conference.

Truman Torgerson, Manitowoc, president of the council and manager of Lake to Lake Dairy Co-operative, maintained the NFO is doomed to failure. It is being propelled forward on half-truths, distortions and sometimes outright falsehoods. No organization so built can long endure," he said.

The only real hope, he contended, is through the support of responsible co-operatives which have demonstrated their ability to do a job for the farmer.

Solid Support

Torgerson received solid support from three practicing farmers who spoke at a sectional meeting. The tested co-operative way was championed by Tom Loszarek, Antigo; Gerhard Nilsen, Arcadia; and Kenyon Giese, Sauk City.

Regents Okay $12.7 Million Construction

Oshkosh Gets Two Resident Halls For 1,500 Students

MADISON (AP) — The construction of 11 dormitories and three food service buildings at an estimated cost of $12.7 million was approved by the Board of State College Regents Thursday.

Only La Crosse and Superior will not get any of the new structures, planned for completion by the fall of 1965. The construction will be financed through federal loans to be repaid from dormitory and meal charges. The dormitories will cost a total of $10.5 million.

The plans call for two residence halls for 700 students at Eau Claire State, two for 750 at Oshkosh, one for 300 at Platteville, one for 300 at River Falls, two for 600 at Stevens Point, one for 350 at Stout, and two for 500 at Whitewater.

The new dormitories will give the colleges accommodations for more than 15,000 students—about half the anticipated 1965 enrollment.

A food service building for 1,500 is planned at Oshkosh State, and structures to serve 1,200 each will be built at Eau Claire and Whitewater.

The regents were told 24,557 students are enrolled at the nine colleges this semester, an increase of 14 per cent over last fall. Of the total, 22,006 are from Wisconsin.

Manitowoc Firm Reports Record High Earnings

MANITOWOC — Sales of the Mirro Aluminum Company for the first three quarters of 1963 reached an all-time high. The announcement was made by the nine state colleges have asked the regents of the system to explore the idea as a means of broadening the usefulness of the institutions. "There are many students who are now enrolled for freshman and sophomore work who are not equipped for a full college course," explained President E. H. Such a degree or certificate would be called an "associate of arts degree," to distinguish it from the usual four-year Bachelor of Science degrees.

Such a degree would not be transferable to any other institution, it was explained. Kleinpell noted that in an era of in-

City Officials Advised to Take Clear-Cut Positions

Post-Crescent News Service

MILWAUKEE — City officials should not be afraid to risk political unpopularity in taking clear-cut positions on municipal issues and programs they feel good for the future of their communities.

Fox Cities area and other municipal officials from throughout the state were told this at the 65th annual conference of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities.

Community Attitudes

The advice came from Mayor Arthur Naftalin of Minneapolis, who warned that local officials do the citizenry a disservice when they follow an "easy does it" approach to avoid controversial issues.

Naftalin said mayors should be aware of community attitudes and preferences and respond to them.

"However, a mayor must not permit himself to be dominated by pressures from particular groups or to be immobilized by the conflicting forces surrounding them," Naftalin cautioned.

He said mayors and other municipal officials must lead aggressively if communities are to deal effectively with problems concerning urban renewal, traffic, protection of water supplies and improving the tax base, to mention a few.

Most Fox Cities officials are attending the parley at the Schroeder Hotel. Mayor Clarence Mitchell and other members of the Appleton delegation will return home Friday.

2 Year Degree Idea at State Colleges Emerges

Council of Presidents Asks Regents To Explore 'Associate of Arts' Plan

Today in History

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Oct. 25, the 298th day of 1963. There are 67 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1854, the Battle of Balakava was fought during the Crimean War. After mistaking its orders, the British light brigade launched a spectacular but futile cavalry attack which cost 247 lives.

On this date:

In 1812, U.S. Navy Capt. Stephen Decatur captured the British frigate Macedonia in a short battle 600 miles east of five Americans killed and seven wounded.

In 1900, the Japanese bombarded Port Arthur in Manchuria.

In 1918, the Germans dammed rivers and flooded the Argonne area to prevent the advance of American troops during World War I.

In 1945, the chief of the German labor front, Dr. Robert Ley, committed suicide to avoid being tried as a Nazi war criminal.

Ten years ago — Yugoslavia denounced as "obvious hypocrisy" Italy's proposal for withdrawal of both nations' troops from the frontier near Trieste.

Five years ago — Thirty persons were injured when a $2-million explosion destroyed a wide section of the business district in Ottawa, Canada.

One year ago — The Cuban crisis continued as the U.S. Navy stopped a Soviet ship bound for Cuba but allowed it to proceed after ascertaining that the vessel was carrying only oil.

American Can Reports 3rd Quarter Earnings Off About $3 Million

NEW YORK — Third quarter earnings of the American Can Company, of which Marathon Menasha, is a division, for the period ending Sept. 30 were $14,716.00 or 87 cents per share after payment of preferred dividends, according to William C. Stolk, chairman, and Roy J. Sund, president. These compared with earnings for the similar period in 1962 of $17,738,000 or $1.04 per share.

Sales for the third quarter were $327,367,000, compared to sales of $353,023,000 in 1962.

Net income for the first nine months of 1963 was $36,800,000 or $2.14 per share, compared to earnings of $40,629,000, or $2.35 per share for a similar period in 1962.

Nine-month net sales for 1963 were $877,203,000. These compared to net sales of $914,675,000 for the comparable period in 1962.

Stock Market Advance Spotty

Hot Chrysler Stock Hits Profit-Taking; Falls Three Points

NEW YORK (AP) — Selective gains gave the stock market an irregular advance in heavy trading early this afternoon.

Chrysler encountered profit-taking and fell 3 points following Thursday's leap of 9 1/2 on stock-split news.

The list as a whole was spotty but sharp gains of some heavily weighted blue chips gave the popular market averages a gain.

Tobacco and sugars were consistently higher. The trend was to the upside among building materials, aerospace issues, airlines, office equipments, chemicals, rails and oil.

Steels were narrowly mixed. Motors were unchanged to lower except for General Motors which rose a point to a new high for the year.

New highs also were scored by AT&T and CBS, both up about 2, and Raytheon, up nearly 3.

Gains of nearly 3 by Du Pont, a point by Union Carbide and a fraction by Jersey Standard also provided quality leadership to the market.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 3 at 2812 with industrials up 3, rails up 3 and utilities up 2.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 141 at 753.21.

Smiling Clerk Important to Supermarkets

Conclusion Result Of Survey Made By Publication

BY JACK LEFLER

NEW YORK (AP)—A smiling clerk means more than low prices to a supermarket customer.

That's the conclusion of a study of customer preferences undertaken by Progressive Grocer, a trade publication, and Colonial Stores, Inc., 11th largest U.S. food chain.

Results of the survey of 12,000 shoppers were reported this week to the annual meeting of the National Association of Food Chains in New York.

The average shopper wants to be treated as a human being and selects her store, first, because she likes the personnel and, second, for the wide variety of products and brands it offers, according to the study.

Patronize Many Stores

Customers, it was found, no longer tend to shop exclusively in one supermarket, but generally patronize two, three and even more supermarkets.

This shopping constitutes a real competitive problem, and also an opportunity for chain supermarkets in that it gives each store a chance to woo the customers of his competitor.

The best way to woo customers, according to the shoppers interviewed, is through congenial, capable store personnel interested in the common and uncommon needs and preferences of the housewife.

Helpful, friendly store personnel was rated as the No. 1 reason for store loyalty. This was followed by a wide choice of merchandise, meats and produce.

Wide Variations

The study showed wide variations in customer purchases by family income. Middle to higher income families spend more for meats, frozen foods, delicacies, baked goods, sauces, light bulbs, paper products, beer and candy in supermarkets. Middle to lower income families spend more for dairy products, baking mixes, cereals, detergents, household supplies, jams and spreads and cigarettes.

Robert W. Mueller, publisher of Progressive Grocer, said the study "tends to confirm our fears that individuality in terms of merchandise is diminished and strongly underlines the importance of the human element, the difference in personnel and their services that customers find so pronounced.

"When customers think highly of personnel, a halo is created that spreads throughout the store and customers tend to see that store as having lower prices, more valuable stamps, tender meat, fresher produce and wider aisles."

Neenah Firm Pays $141 Fine in Calumet Court

CHILTON — An axle overload cost a Neenah firm, Courtney and Plummer Inc., $141 in fines and penalties in Calumet County Court this week.

State highway police charged the firm of operating a truck with a 3,940 pound axle overload. The vehicle weighed in at 21,040 pounds. The legal maximum is 18,000 pounds.

The truck was checked in the Town of Brillion Oct. 7.

Bitter Disappointment

Frankly, I was bitterly disappointed with the show that the very popular Four Preps put on Thursday evening at Lawrence Memorial Chapel. Having heard several of their recordings in the last few years, and enjoying the fresh satirical approach and rollicking good humor these discs displayed, I was a bitter come-down to view their lackluster performance, and verging on the amateur level, and often beyond the borders of good taste.

It seems that this is still an other group that is the product of a recording engineer's wizardry that makes the bad sound good and the weak sound strong.

Union President Confers With 3 Federal Trustees

MONTREAL (AP) — Stalled inland ship traffic began moving today after members of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada voted to end their four-day walkout protesting a government trusteeship.

A majority of the 2,000 SIU members along the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence Seaway voted Thursday night to go back to work after their controversial president, Hal C. Banks, met in Ottawa with the three federal trustees appointed Wednesday to take control of Canada's five maritime unions. The walkout had tied up at least 91 inland cargo vessels on eastern waters since Monday.

Banks told SIU members in Montreal the trustees had agreed not to interfere with the union's internal affairs, that the SIU's officers and its constitution would not be changed, that the trustees would not occupy the SIU headquarters building in Montreal; that the other unions under trusteeship would not be allowed to tamper with SIU members, and that the SIU would appoint a liaison officer to work with the trustees.

In theory, the SIU men were to remain off their ships until all members of the union had voted. But by late Thursday night some were back at work and ships that had been tied up began to move along the Seaway.

"We're moving everywhere," said a spokesman for Canada Steamship Lines, largest of the fleets affected by the walkout. The three trustees, headed by Justice Victor L. Dryer of Vancouver, said they would now turn to a close internal study of the SIU and the other unions.

Calls Poverty Bigger Issue Than Moon Quest

MONTREAL (AP) — Canadian Prime Minister Lester Pearson says it is more important to tackle poverty, hunger, disease and backwardness than to put a man on the moon.

Addressing the Montreal branch of the United Nations Association, Pearson said such adversities "must be met and overcome before the world community can live in peace."

7 Believed Safe in Side Shaft but No Word Received From Remaining 43 Men

HILDESHEIM, Germany (AP) — Trapped by a sudden area, about 17 miles south of flood from the pool of their own of Hannover, expressed belief ore processing plant. 50 miners construction of a big highway were pinned below the surface approach nearby may have of the Lengede iron mine today weakened the banks. Seven were reached in a side shaft by a six-inch drill driven from the surface and rescuers worked hard to widen the hole to about 20 inches so a "rescue bomb" could be lowered to them.

The "bomb" is a bell-shaped bucket into which a man can fit. "We're all in good shape," said a voice through the narrow shaft. "The ventilation is good." But the good news applied only to the seven.

No Word From 43 Seventeen hours after the mass of water broke into the main shaft of the 300-foot-deep mine Thursday night there was no word from the other 43.

Among them were believed to be three men who first saw what was happening when the pool's shoreline gave way and went down to give the alarm. Seventy-nine got out in time. More than 600,000 cubic yards of water and mud poured down to the lower level. Officials explained there was no chance of reaching the trapped men through the main shaft because the flood had made it unusable.

Cause Not Learned The cause of the pool's break from its bed remained to be determined.

Railway Extends Commuter Trial To Milwaukee

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago & North Western Railway will extend until April 24, 1964, a trial period for commuter service to Milwaukee, a spokesman said Thursday.

When the old North Shore electric commuter line closed down last February, the North Western added service, including morning and evening trains for persons commuting to and from Milwaukee.

The spokesman said the trains, designed for persons living in Waukegan, Ill., Kenosha, Wis., and Racine, Wis., were put on as an experiment until Friday.

Now the trial period is being extended, he said, "so that when we make a permanent decision it will be on the basis of a fair test." He said patronage has not been good.

Rockefeller Hopes to Overtake Sen. Goldwater's Apparent Lead

BY ROBERT T. GRAY ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — "If Dartmouth can come from behind and win in the fourth quarter, then why can't we?" Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller asked a small band of his New Hampshire supporters in ringing, pep rally fashion at a private dinner.

His audience understood and cheered the football allusion Rockefeller used to describe his present role in the contest for the Republican nomination for president—that of optimistic underdog.

Draws Parallel Most of them had watched a few hours earlier at Dartmouth, Rockefeller's alma mater, defeated Holy Cross in the last five minutes of their game. A hard-driving offense and some razzle-dazzle football did the trick.

New York's millionaire governor hopes for a parallel development in his political campaign with Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater—that he can come Rockefeller political operation.

from far behind and win the Republican nomination for president.

The governor is mounting a hard-driving offensive and employing a few razzle-dazzle tactics himself.

Elaborate strategy, platitudes

This is a companion story to yesterday's Washington summary of Barry Goldwater's status as a potential Republican presidential candidate. Robert Gray, who writes about Nelson Rockefeller, has covered his five years as New York governor and accompanied him on many campaign trips.

Adlai Attacked, Cheered During Dallas Speech

Demonstrator Spits At Stevenson in Disorderly Protest

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — One anti-UN demonstrator spat on Adlai E. Stevenson, another banged him on the head with a sign and about 100 milled around him in a disorderly protest Thursday night.

The disturbance occurred after a United Nations Day speech during which Stevenson drew two standing ovations from 1,750 persons jamming the Municipal Auditorium in downtown Dallas. A front row heckler interrupted him at one point.

Police arrested one man in breaking up a crowd gathered around a car in which Stevenson, this country's ambassador to the United Nations, left the auditorium. Another demonstrator was held only briefly.

He appeared startled but unhurt by the blow on his head. Police grabbed a woman carrying the sign.

Tries to Pacify Woman "Don't arrest her—it could have been an accident," Stevenson said. Then he asked the woman "What is wrong? Can I help you in any way?"

The woman, who later identified herself to reporters as Cora Fredrickson of Dallas, snarled back "If you don't know what's wrong, I don't know why everybody else does."

Stevenson turned and walked away. Mrs. Fredrickson, 47, told newsmen she did not intend to strike him but someone jostled her arm as she pushed her placard close for the ambassador to read.

The sign asked "Adlai, who electer you?" The arrested man, accused

2 Boys Accused Of Setting Fires

RACINE (AP) — Two boys, 10 and 12 years of age, have admitted setting five small fires which caused $100 damage to Grace Lutheran Church earlier in the week, police said Thursday.

The boys were turned over to their parents, pending further action by authorities. They also were suspended from their public school until their parents meet with school officials.

The fires, and other vandalism in the church, were discovered after a rummage sale Tuesday. Fire Chief Russ H. Anderson said two of the blazes could have caused extensive damage had they not been found soon after they were set.

Evacuation Of 100-Mile Zone Urged

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Evacuation of a 100-mile stretch of South Carolina's beach areas was urged today as hurricane Ginny's 100 mile an hour winds bore down on the coast. The unpredictable Atlantic storm was expected to make its landfall late tonight. The eye may strike to the southwest of Cape Fear, N.C., near the anti-UN demonstrator spat on South Carolina line.

Coastal radar and air reconnaissance located the center of Ginny at 11 a.m. at near latitude 32.11 north and longitude 79.4 west or about 65 miles southeast of Charleston. The storm was moving on a northerly course of 8 miles per hour, the Weather Bureau said. Highest winds were estimated at 100 m.p.h. over a small area near the center. Gales extend outward 175 miles over the ocean and about 100 miles southeast of the center.

To Public Shelters Most low-lying areas in the Charleston vicinity were evacuated before noon. Many persons who fled their homes moved into 30 public shelters opened in the area. The shelters, equipped with first aid supplies and nurses, can handle 7,000 persons.

The U.S. Weather Bureau station in Charleston suggested that all schools up to 100 miles inland be dismissed by noon so that school buses would be off the highways by 1 p.m.

If Ginny's hurricane force winds pound ashore in late afternoon, she will hit the coast at high tide. Storm-wrecked veterans say this is the time of great danger because the combination causes excessive flooding.

The Weather Bureau warned that tides up to 9 feet above average low tide are expected. Ginny, which first became a hurricane last Sunday night off the Carolina coast, was reported some 80 miles southeast of Charleston. The storm was moving generally toward the north at about 8 miles per hour.

Hurricane warnings were in effect from Charleston northward 150 miles to Cape Fear, N.C.

Due in Afternoon "Winds of hurricane force may reach the vicinity of Charleston this afternoon and progress up the coast to the North Carolina line tonight," the Weather Bureau said.

Gales from Ginny extended outward 175 miles over the

Bonn Reassured About U. S. Keeping Troops in Europe

Airlift Completed in Record Time but Questions Remain

BONN, GERMANY (AP) — The caused the U.S. troop issue to West German government said slip down on the agenda of U.S. today the issue of U.S. troop — West German talks.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk arrived here earlier today to counter fears that Exercise Big Lift — the aerial transfer of the 2nd Armored Division from Texas — meant the United States would pull out some of its 250,000 soldiers based in Europe.

Vance said the United States has no intention of withdrawing any of our six division equivalents which are here in Bonn this

A government spokesman, Karl Guenther von Hase, told a news conference in Bonn this

Rusk met with Ludwig Erhard, West Germany's new chancellor, at the chancellor's residence. It was their first meeting since Erhard, former economics minister, succeeded Konrad Adenauer Oct. 16.

East-West relations projected tariff reductions and U.S. troop strength in Europe were the reported topics.

The secretary arranged to see Adenauer and Defense Minister Kai-Uwe von Hassel during the day.

Rusk himself made a reassuring statement upon his arrival, saying the Big Lift operation "means the United States has more power in Germany than ever before."

Von Hase said the troop issue will still be taken up in the Rusk talks, but only to be "finally disposed of." He said that now the principal themes will be East-West relations and prospective tariff reductions.

Rusk said before leaving Washington that he would explain to the West German government that the United States

Date of Easter May be Fixed

Vatican Council Prepared to Accept Universal Calendar

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council voted today to put the Roman Catholic Church on record as willing to accept a fixed date for Easter and a new universal calendar.

The cardinals, patriarchs, archbishops and bishops attending the assembly—by a vote of 2,057 to 4, with 1 null ballot—agreed the council should declare it does not oppose a new perpetual calendar, providing other Christian churches accept it and providing it retains a seven-day week, including Sunday.

Fixed Date for Easter By a vote of 2,058 to 9, with 1 null ballot, the council fathers declared themselves favorable to fixing the date of Easter on the same Sunday each year.

The votes were on amendments to a chapter in a council schema on liturgy, or public worship. The chapter deals with the Church year — the cycle of liturgical seasons such as Lent and Advent.

The Church would not draw up the calendar reforms, but would leave that to civil au-

Rhinoceros Star of New Family Movie

Unique Producer Ivan Tors of 'Flipper' Fame Hopes to Repeat Success in 'Rhino'

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Film maker Ivan Tors aims to do the lumbering rhinoceros what he has done for the graceful dolphin.

Tors is a bearded, Hungarian-accented producer with two missions 1 To make movies for the whole family ("I have three sons, and if a Disney picture isn't showing, we can't go to the theater together"); 2 To make movies that no one else can produce

World's Girls Set to Please All TV Viewers

BY TV SCOUT
9-10 (Channel 11) — There is a lot for boys and girls in The World's Girls, a delightful study of the joys and problems of being female. Men will like bikini-clad women, belly dancers, Playboy Club bunnies and Simone Signoret. Women will like fashions, a Smith College reunion, the scenes in Japan, a lovely Swedish housewife-journalist, and some cute children (Color)

6-30-7:30 (Channel 2) — Despite a beginning that tries, unnecessarily, to apologize for the art of spying, The Great Adventure's story about Nathan Hale makes a good adventure yarn

6-30-7:30 (Channel 11) — There's no violence or gun-play in 77 Sunset Strip's good drama, but there are some fine emotional scenes and a good performance by Elizabeth Montgomery as a Negro who has passed for white.

7-30-8:30 (Channel 2) — The colorful background of Maine lobster-fishermen and sensitive performances by William Shatner and Pat Hingle give Route 66 a dramatic hour which builds to a climactic tragedy in the stark manner of Greek drama.

7-30-8:30 (Channel 11) — Girl-watchers will have a fine time with Burke's Law. It's set in a key club where shapely girls run around dressed as tigresses. The problem for Amos, who killed the owner of the club, a man who also publishes a highly successful girls' magazine.

7-30-8:30 (Channel 4-5) — Bob Hope Presents — Bob Hope in a potpourri of topical gaffs and skits. Guests are Andy Griffith, Martha Raye, Dodgers Sandy Koufax, Tommy Davis and Don Drysdale and Jane Russell. Beryl Davis and Connie Haines.

8-30-9 (Channel 2) — Mickey Rooney has an acting tour de force on The Twilight Zone. He is the only actor on camera, appearing as both a crooked jockey tired of being called "an ugly little punk," and the jockey's conscience.

8-30-9 (Channel 4-5) — Harry's Girls, thanks to Larry Blyden and his superior way with the caustic dialogue, has some very funny spots in a transparent story.

9-10 (Channel 2) — "Blood Bargain," on The Alfred Hitchcock Hour, makes the point that if you are a hired killer, it's better not to take pity on your victim. Richard Kiley is the killer, with a contract to knock off bookie Richard Long.

Ben Hecht Author of 'Circus World' Script

Prominent author and playwright Ben Hecht is author of the screen play for "Circus World," Paramount movie starring John Wayne, Claudia Cardinale, Rod Taylor, Rita Hayworth and Lloyd Nolan.

The movie is based on an original story by Philip Yordan. "Circus World" began production in Spain in September, under the direction of Henry Hathaway.

Hecht was a newspaperman in Chicago at the outset of his colorful career. Some of his original screenplays include "Front Page," "Design for Living," "Twentieth Century," "Spellbound," "Notorious," "Miracle in the Rain" and "A Farewell to Arms."

Movie Producer Ivan Tors, whose nature films made a star of the dolphin in "Flipper" and more recently the rhinoceros, immobilizes a wildebeest or gnu in Africa by shooting tranquilizers into it. He attaches a beeping radio transmitter to the animal's horn so the movie crew can find the animal for later scenes. (AP Wirephoto)

'Barefoot in Park' Brings Big Guffaws

BY WILLIAM GLOVER
NEW YORK (AP) — "Barefoot in the Park" is Broadway's new laugh dandy.

Rapid-fire gags, pert acting and a peanut-tiny plot are the combination at the Biltmore Theater. They had Wednesday night's premiere audience in a state of continuous guffaw.

Neil Simon, the author, has had plenty of experience dashing off material for television comedy and a couple of seasons ago augmented the White Way's merriment with "Come Blow Your Horn." This latest concoction, examined closely, doesn't glisten with originality or probe any dramatic depths. But the assembly line has delivered a fun jackpot.

Story of Young Couple
The plot concerns a young couple who are trying to find

Living Within Income Value of Dollar Has Gone Down Since Depression Days

BY MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

We have four children, ranging in age from 9 to 16 years. My take-home pay is $510 per month.

Will you please tell me how this should be budgeted. Payments on the car and house are $150 per month; insurance, taxes, etc., on house, car and people are about $35 a month; car operating expense about $30.

We are getting deeper and deeper in debt every month and for one who grew up during the depression years $500 seems like a lot of money. Or am I wrong?

B.S., Bedford, Va.

Five hundred dollars is a lot of money — it just doesn't buy very much. Which is the sad story of our times and taxes. Sometimes it just doesn't pay to look over your shoulder. Nostalgia will get you down.

However, since you are wondering what has happened to the dollar, remind yourself that some 24 or 25 years ago the American family could live comfortably on about one-third the amount of money needed today, since taxes and inflation were at a minimum. As I've had occasion to point out to bewildered wage earners before, the family making $5,000 in 1939 paid $59 in taxes. Today the same family pays — $1,948.

And as long as we're looking back, let's go all the way back: our pioneer economy which put this country on its sturdy feet, depended on some factors we choose to ignore today. One of them is simply that in the early days, the family was a working unit. As soon as sons and daughters were old enough to rest their chins on the kitchen table, they joined forces with the grown-ups. The income — regardless of whether it was figured in dollars or crops or cattle — was realistically a family affair. As there were more mouths to feed and more shoes needed, there were more hands helping to provide them.

In contrast, today's head of the house more often than not bears the increasing family load single-handedly. He provides his children's livelihood for many more years than his forebears did. Today we think of a young person's wage earnings years as starting when he has finished his education, be it high school or college. At least, that's our ideal conception of family life as it should be lived. We put emphasis on formal education in these complicated times — and goodness knows that's where we should put it. But in all justice to himself, the wage-earner must recognize that it doesn't lighten his financial burden — that his single income is expected to spread like a blanket to cover a steadily growing menace.

The point is, of course, how to spread the "blanket." In your case, it might stretch like this: Housing, $85; household operating, $40; food, $170; clothing, $30; insurance, $35; personal allowance, $20; loan (car payments), $65; miscellaneous, gifts, etc., $15; medical, $20; car operating expenses, $30.

That gives you a monthly set-up that will just get you by — without allowing for recreation or vacations. However, some families tell me they manage to feed five people on $35 a week — so perhaps you can trim the food allotment. You don't say how much longer the car payments will continue, but that item will promise you some relief in the future anyway. See if you can skim a dollar or two

A giant-size mask for Halloween is today's fun-project. It is a funny or fierce face drawn on your fingers through, using the side of a corrugated carton. The ears serve as handles. Slits are cut in the eyes so you can see through them.

You carry the big face in front of you as you go around trick-or-treating. Find an empty carton that has a side about one yard long

Caution Urged In Buying Mature Cattle

Breeding, Size Vital in Selecting Calves or Heifers

BY COURTNEY SCHWERTZ
Delaunee County 4-H Club Agent

Buyers beware is generally good advice, but is especially true when you're buying mature dairy cattle.

If you want to start or expand your dairy herd by buying cows, remember that cattle are usually for sale because someone else wanted to get rid of them.

We suggest that you buy only those cows that have production records. Without production records you are taking a chance. Some cows may look good, and yet be very poor producers.

Condition Size
Buy a cow of good condition and size. Check to see if she is an easy milker and also check the soundness of her udder. A blind or lumpy quarter is an indication of mastitis.

Generally it doesn't pay to buy older cows unless the price is substantially lower. There is a greater possibility that older cows have serious defects and their years of usefulness are limited.

A 4-H member may find that purchasing heifers suits his program, better, but certain cautions are still necessary. Breeding, dairy type and size are important when buying heifers. If the heifer is a daughter of a proven sire, you have an indication of the performance you can expect from her later. Also check the dam's appearance and her production records.

May Be Answer
If you can delay income for several years and are interested in getting as many animals as possible for the money invested, buying calves may be the answer.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The average of about $5.49 per hundred pounds for milk used for bottling purposes during early October this year. This was about the same as a year earlier.

But retail prices in representative cities averaged 27 cents a quart for home delivered milk, an increase of two-tenths of a cent over October 1962.

The amount delivered per producer in August this year was 771 pounds, compared with 706 pounds a year earlier. For a number of years, the number of recommended insecticides in western states.

Neenah Farmer's Cow Sets Record

A three-year-old Holstein owned by a rural Neenah farmer established a milk production record approaching triple that of the national average dairy cow.

The reports came from the Holstein - Friesian Association of America

Winowis Violet Ormsby Burke, a three-year-old, owned by Earl Hughes, Neenah, produced 19,991 lbs. of milk and 721 lbs. of butterfat in 365 days.

Burr Oak Sue Comet King, a five-year-old, owned by Edward Buehring, Oshkosh, produced 19,335 lbs. of milk and 712 lbs. of butterfat in 346 days.

Meriwether Leader Phoebe, a five-year-old, owned by John H. Bartlett, Oshkosh, produced 18,696 lbs. of milk and 552 lbs. of butterfat in 365 days.

According to the national Holstein organization, the new production figures compare to an annual output of 7,211 lbs. of milk and 270 lbs. of butterfat by the average U.S. dairy cow.

The University of Wisconsin supervised the weighing and testing of the Holstein records as part of the breed's nationwide herd testing programs.

Expert Answers On Potato Crops At State Show

Potato growers attending the State Potato Show Nov. 6-7 at Stevens Point will find six University of Wisconsin specialists waiting to answer any questions they might have about potato production and marketing.

For the first time this year, the university is providing an information center manned by specialists who will answer questions from growers on an individual basis. The information booth will be located on the east end of the Central State College field house.

Specialists on duty will include Orrin Berge, agricultural engineer; Myron Graskopp, Hancock experimental farm; John Libby, entomologist; John Schoenemann, horticulturist; Earl Wade, plant pathologist; and Richard Wiese, soils specialist.

This team will provide growers with information on irrigation, soils, fertilization, insect control, disease control, equipment, weed control, marketing, and potato varieties.

People Still Hungry

Bulk of Food Imports Are by Lands With Higher Birthrate

ROME (AP) — The world's rich nations ate better in the past year than ever before. In the poor countries, pangs of hunger bit deeper.

The 1962-63 annual report of the food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) told today of the widening of a trend evident since World War II, the gap between want and plenty.

More food was grown. World food trade increased. But the FAO said the increases and the bulk of the food imports were in the well-off countries, not in the poorer lands of skyrocketing population.

The farmer generally got a better price for his produce. But the FAO said he ended up worse off, as the improvement in his income did not offset the even greater price increases in the goods he had to buy.

Other highlights of the report: — Soviet Russia and eastern Europe were hit by a year of bad weather which hurt food production.

— Hungry Red China finally had a better crop year, after a long run of bad weather seasons, but still needs vast food imports.

— Huge food surpluses remain stockpiled in the richer nations, but these showed some decrease in 1962-63.

— World agricultural production rose by 2 to 3 per cent in 1962-63, keeping slightly ahead of the annual population increase of about 2 per cent.

Record crops of wheat, barley and cotton contributed mainly to the increase in food production. Oats, corn, sugar, citrus fruit, coffee and cocoa decreased, along with lute and timber.

FAO reported that four-fifths of the world's agricultural exports went to the industrialized nations of North America, Western Europe, Oceania and Japan. "Agricultural imports by non-industrial countries declined by 2 per cent."

It said agricultural production appears to have increased appreciably in each of the main regions of the world except Latin America and the Far East, both areas of fast-increasing population.

"In mainland China, in spite of reports of bad weather in some areas, all sources agree that 1962-63 was the second consecutive year of gradual improvement in the production of basic foods," the report said.

"Official reports indicate, without giving any statistics, that the harvests of rice and wheat were the best since 1959-60, though the production of cotton, oilseeds and other crops remained low."

"Food rations seem to have improved somewhat, in both quantity and variety, and have recently included some meat, eggs and fish. Shortages have persisted, however, and heavy grain imports have continued."

The report added: "The rapid growth of agricultural production in Eastern Europe and the U.S.S.R. that took place during the decade of the 1950s seems to have slowed down, at least temporarily."

"Climatic conditions were unfavorable in many parts of the U.S.S.R. in 1962-63 and yields per hectare (a metric unit equaling 2.471 acres) were generally low. Almost all of the eastern European countries were affected in 1962-63 by a cold winter and spring and by subsequent drought."

Speaking of the United States and Canada, the report said:

"Agricultural production in North America increased by about 2 per cent in 1962-63, after a slight decline in the year be-

Price Support Loan Waiting Period Cut Rules Simplified For Grain Crops Stored on Farms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under a simplification of procedures, many farmers will be able next year to get price support loans on grains and some other farm commodities within four or five days instead of waiting five to six weeks as in the past.

In announcing changes in the regulations, the Agriculture Department said it sought to make its price support operations more effective in strengthening farm prices and incomes.

The simplified rules will apply to farm-stored corn, sorghum, oats, barley, rye, sorghum, grain, rice, dry beans, peanuts, honey and tung nuts or oil. They will not apply to cotton or to bacco because a little of these crops are stored on farms.

Under the new regulations, a time between application for a loan and its receipt will be reduced very sharply because exact measurements of quantity and quality will not be made. A representative of the county agricultural office and the farm's reservation office and the farmer will make a quantity estimate of the commodity stored on the farm. The county office will then issue a loan draft covering

Beetles May Select Tree For Attack

Ethn Bark beetles may contaminate the single elm tree in the middle of your front lawn with Dutch elm disease before they attack your neighbor's dense elm grove, reports University of Wisconsin entomologist Dale M. Norris.

Norris has discovered that the smaller European elm bark beetles prefer brightly lighted elms over those in a dense shade.

Tom Van Handel and Darlene Spits were named to be in charge of the club's Christmas party.

Newly elected club officers are: Ronald Van Handel, president; Mary Ann Klarner, vice president; James Van Handel, secretary; Mike Felzer, treasurer; Ruth Jenkel, reporter; Kathy Baumann and Jake Palizer, servants-at-arms; and Dennis Van Handel, historian.

The group's next meeting will be "parents night."

Grading, Sizing of Eggs Explained by Specialist

"Remember, size alone does not indicate a good egg buy — and grade alone does not indicate egg value", Baxter Newton, marketing specialist, State Department of Agriculture, reminds housewives.

If you are confusing egg size with quality, Newton points out, you are overlooking a most important aspect of egg shopping. A big egg can be of the highest or lowest quality — so can a small egg.

Official Terms
There are official terms to designate both size and quality, which are widely used all over the country. There are five different official sizes of eggs, each with its own exact range of weights per dozen. They are: Jumbo, 30 ounces; Extra large, 27 ounces; Large, 24 ounces; Medium, 21 ounces; and Small 18 ounces. Egg size, therefore, tells nothing about quality except that chickens just beginning to lay have their "egg laying machinery" in the best working order; this means eggs of top quality and taste, and

Hilbert Cows Hit Record Milk Marks

The Holstein-Friesian Association has announced that a registered cow on the Kaytee Farm, No. 2, Hilbert has completed an official record on milk production. The animal produced more than 100,000 pounds of milk. Pinchurst, June 3347977 (VG) had 111,493 pounds of milk and 4,125 pounds of butterfat in 3,326 days. Wisconsin bulls owned by Leonard Seybold, Meadowbrook Holstein Farm Forest Junction, and Julius Robaidek, Pulaski, have qualified as silver medal type sires. The set up calls for daughter-dam comparison based on type classification scores. New Method The new method involves daughter-dam comparisons similar to those employed in gauging a sire's ability to transmit production. Under the plan, each cow's type score is converted to a percentage of the breed average for her age group. Comparisons are drawn between the resulting figures averaged for both dams and daughters. To qualify for the silver metal type guard, a sire must have daughters with classification scores higher than the breed average for animals in their age bracket. They must also exceed "expectancy"—a point midway between the breed age average of their dams and that of the entire breed.

Control of Dutch Elm Disease to be Studied

Mounting concern over the continued spread of Dutch Elm disease in the state has resulted in the calling of a conference by the Wisconsin State Department of Agriculture.

The meeting, to which municipal officials and others interested in control measures have been invited, will be held Oct. 31 at the Wisconsin Center in Madison. Co-operating in the one-day seminar are the University of Wisconsin and the League of Wisconsin Municipalities.

The current status of the disease, which has now hit 35 counties in varying degrees, will be reviewed by a panel of speakers. Others will discuss research efforts.

Review Progress
The present progress of Dutch Elm disease will be reviewed by George E. Hafstad, plant pathologist of the State Department of Agriculture. Research studies will be outlined by Dale Norris and Eugene Smalley, both of the University of Wisconsin. Control recommendations will be explained by A. H. Epstein, also a plant pathologist with the State Department of Agriculture.

James Marshall, superintendent of Madison parks, will detail the ingredients of a successful municipal Dutch Elm disease control program. Julian Bradbury, legal counsel of the Wisconsin League of Municipalities, and G. A. Schueler, who holds a similar position with the State Department of Agriculture, will cover legal tools and aspects of the problem.

David Williams, director of agriculture extension at the university, and Gale Wolf, extension plant pathologist, will outline the role of the extension service, while Sen. Walter Holmlander, of Rosendale, chairman

Accountant Has Planned Rise Of Chrysler

Lynn Townsend on Payroll 6 Years; President in 1961

BY A. F. MAHAN
DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corporation's phenomenal recovery, which is likely to result in a second 2-for-1 stock split and doubling of dividends within less than a year, was plotted by a 44-year-old accountant who went on the automaker's payroll only six years ago.

He is Lynn A. Townsend, who took over as president of Chrysler July 26, 1961. It then was wobbling, beset by internal dissection, and plagued by lawsuits and a loss of $15.7 million in the preceding six months.

Trimmed Jobs
Townsend trimmed 7,000 jobs out of middle-management and reorganized at the top. He wrought a quick switch from red to black ink as auto sales began accelerating toward the record-breaking levels of this year.

Townsend joined Chrysler in 1957 as comptroller, moving over from the company's accounting firm of Touche, Ross, Bailey & Smart, in which he was a partner. He was promoted from administrative vice president when L. L. Colbert was relieved as president and board chairman four years later.

Large Profit
Chrysler directors, noting a profit of $100 million in the first nine months of this year, decided in New York Thursday to propose a new 2-for-1 stock split, and to continue a 25-cent quarterly dividend afterward. Stockholders will vote on it Dec. 17.

Chrysler, the price of its stock spiraling, decided on a 2-for-1 split only last April.

Chrysler was in turmoil when Townsend took over. First, a conflict of interest charge forced out William C. Newberg as president and Colbert, who had advanced to chairman, assumed the presidency also.

Handling Criticized
Criticism of his handling of the conflict of interest case, declining sales and losses brought about Colbert's stepping out and into chairmanship of Chrysler Canada.

Within a year, Townsend reversed Chrysler's trend. The firm showed a profit of $11.9 million in the first half of 1962, against a $15.7 million loss in the same months of 1961.

Chrysler's penetration of the total U.S. auto market had sagged from 21.3 in 1951 to a low of 8.5. Townsend moved the percentage up to 9.6 and now at 13.2.

U.S. Industrial Exhibits Sent To 32 Nations

Trade Promotion Is Purpose of Ship to Sail on Nov. 21

BY JACK LEFLER
NEW YORK (AP)—A ship will sail out of New York harbor Nov. 21, carrying exhibits from major U.S. industries to 32 countries.

It will be named the Trade-fair and its purpose will be to promote trade between the United States and the countries it visits.

The $10-million vessel, 525 feet long and of about 20,000 tons displacement, has government support but is privately financed.

Personal Contact
Rear Adm. John H. Morrill, president of the First United States World Trade Fair Ship, Inc., said of the project.

"We believe that world peace and understanding among nations can best be achieved through personal contacts between peoples of the world and that this ship is one means by which closer social and business meetings can be made possible."

The itinerary includes London, Rotterdam, Hamburg, Marseilles, Bombay, Genoa, Singapore, Hong Kong, Tokyo, Sidney, Manila, Capetown and Buenos Aires.

Million Buyers
Morrill said about one million trade buyers are expected to view the exhibits each year.

Registration will be by invitation and the daily rate will be held to 4,000 to 5,000 visitors.

His estimate was based on studies of the market made by the Department of Commerce, independent research and the results of the Japanese floating trade fair ship, Sakuramaru, which sold $15 million of goods in 10 ports in four months.

The Tradefair project is sponsored by 10 New York firms and has received support in Washington. Besides industrial firms, a number of states and the Departments of Commerce and Agriculture have indicated interest in contracting for space, according to Morrill.

Scranton Doesn't Want To Become President
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton, often mentioned as a dark horse Republican presidential candidate, said in Pittsburgh he does not want to be president.

He told a news conference: "I'm not putting myself up as any kind of candidate. I don't want to be president."

Ken Richards, a Senior from Naperville, Ill., gives former President Harry Truman a gentle swat as part of the ceremony today in which the former national leader was initiated into membership in Grinnell College's West Norris Hall. Truman was on the Grinnell campus for a series of appearances Thursday and today. It was only a tap, instead of the traditional swat and afterwards Truman said something like 'turn about is fair play', so Richards in turn bent over for a tap from Truman. (AP Wirephoto)

Must be Pushed Woman Says Village, City Officials Lack Initiative

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Wisconsin city and village officers were told Thursday they often had to be pushed into progress.

Mrs. Donald Clusen of Green Bay, president of the Wisconsin League of Women Voters, told delegates to the 65th annual convention of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities.

"We elected you to be leaders," she said at a workshop conference that city and village officers often lacked sufficient foresight, initiative and leadership and too often substituted studies for action.

Condemns Law
The delegates, scheduled to close the three-day meeting today, approved unanimously a resolution condemning as "an unwarranted exercise of state authority" the Legislature's approval of a bill requiring the use of voting machines in all cities over 10,000 population for the 1966 fall primary.

Another resolution urged the Legislature to "reconsider and delete" a three per cent "discriminatory" use on tax household electricity.

A third called on the Legislature to repeal the tax law provision which, the league claimed, diverted $7.2 million from the sales tax allocation for reducing local property taxes.

Goldwater Says Rockefeller Is An Extremist

Senator States He Is A Conservative And Spurns Fight

BY WALTER R. MEARS
HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater has questioned Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's credentials as a Republican.

But Goldwater insisted anew that he doesn't want to argue with other Republicans.

And the Arizona senator said he would support Rockefeller if the New York governor became the GOP choice to challenge President Kennedy for the White House next year.

Goldwater Favorite
Political surveys rate Goldwater an early favorite for the Republican nomination.

With Rockefeller in California arguing that Goldwater's conservative views are out of step with the voters, the senator jabbed back at a news conference Thursday.

A reporter asked Goldwater to comment on Rockefeller's statement that he is a moderate while Goldwater and Kennedy are at extremes of the right and the left.

Political Philosophy
"It would be very difficult to place the governor's political philosophy if he states it that way," Goldwater replied. "I am a conservative. I don't know where the governor would be but I doubt if it would be a Republican position."

Another Goldwater comment: "The governor must belong to some other party, I don't know."

But Goldwater, who has scorned a Rockefeller challenge to debate Republican principles, added "I don't want to fight other Republicans."

"There are enough opportunities with Kennedy to keep a dozen of us busy 24 hours a day."

Test surveys show a continuing emphasis upon written transportation policies and in control of the maximum walking distance for pupils to the school bus route. More schools are also providing transportation for kindergarten pupils and for special events involving athletics, musical events and other school-sponsored student activities. The latest survey was among the schools of northeastern Wisconsin.

Valachi Delayed Kennedy Trip to Asia Next Year Is Possible

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the underworld secrets has been postponed.

ASIAN-BOUND: A trip by President Kennedy to the Far East next spring remains a lively possibility but authoritative sources insisted today no active plans are being made at this time.

The administration's key tax bill and civil rights measure now before Congress are expected to keep the President close to the White House for the remainder of this year.

Kennedy has been considering a swing through the Far East from Japan to Indonesia, Australia and New Zealand.

Vice Crackdown In Pennsylvania

PITTSBURGH (AP)—State Police arrested more than 60 persons late Thursday night in a major vice crackdown on scores of clubs and taverns in the Pittsburgh district.

Some 150 troopers, led by State Police Commissioner E. Wilson Purdy, swooped down on the clubs shortly before midnight and only a few hours after Gov. William Scranton had blasted law enforcement in the city.

Those arrested were given a hearing at the State Office Building and arraigned on charges ranging from prostitution to procuring and running a disorderly house.

Purdy said the raids were based on evidence gathered by State Police undercover agents during the past two months.

Bonn Reassured About U. S. Keeping Troops in Europe

Date of Easter May be Fixed

Vatican Council Prepared to Accept Universal Calendar

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council voted today to put the Roman Catholic Church on record as willing to accept a fixed date for Easter and a new universal calendar.

The cardinals, patriarchs, archbishops and bishops attending the assembly—by a vote of 2,057 to 4, with 1 null ballot—agreed the council should declare it does not oppose a new perpetual calendar, providing other Christian churches accept it and providing it retains a seven-day week, including Sunday.

Fixed Date for Easter By a vote of 2,058 to 9, with 1 null ballot, the council fathers declared themselves favorable to fixing the date of Easter on the same Sunday each year.

The votes were on amendments to a chapter in a council schema on liturgy, or public worship. The chapter deals with the Church year — the cycle of liturgical seasons such as Lent and Advent.

The Church would not draw up the calendar reforms, but would leave that to civil authorities.

Airlift Completed in Record Time but Questions Remain

BONN, GERMANY (AP)—The Bonn government said today the issue of U. S. troop strength in Europe has lost importance because of the reassurances given in Frankfurt by Secretary of the Army Cyrus R. Vance.

Vance said the United States "has no intention of withdrawing any of our six division equivalents which are here" in West Germany. A government spokesman, Karl Guenther von Hase, told a news conference in Bonn this morning.

Rusk met with Ludwig Erhard, West Germany's new chancellor, at the chancellor's residence. It was their first meeting since Erhard, former economics minister, succeeded Konrad Adenauer Oct. 16.

East-West relations projected tariff reductions and U. S. troop strength in Europe were the reported topics.

The secretary arranged to see Adenauer and Defense Minister Kai-Uwe von Hassel during the day. Rusk himself made a reassuring statement upon his arrival, saying the Big Lift operation "means the United States has more power in Germany than ever before."

Von Hase said the troop issue will still be taken up in the Rusk talks, but only to be "finally disposed of." He said that now the principal themes will be East-West relations and prospective tariff reductions.

Rusk said before leaving Washington that he would explain to the West German government that the United States has no intention of withdrawing any of its six division equivalents which are here in West Germany.

Zee was trailed by Wesley Amsdill of Michigan and Lester Fischer of Rulo, Neb.

William Buller of Brookings, S.D., was one of two repeat champions, successfully defending his 1962 picker-sheller title. Ambrose Wegner of Blanchardville, Wis., was second and Don Wiese of Mountain Lakes, Minn., third.

Lawrence Fisher of Palmyra, Mich., repeated as the combine titlist, followed by William Smoots of Monroe, Neb., and Harvey Studt of Elmoat, Mich.

Hospital Statistics Are Topic of K of C Talk

Calumet Council Meets for First Time in Brillion Instead of Chilton

BRILLION — Calumet Memorial Hospital statistics were the topic of a talk by Vincent Reinkober, Chilton, at a Calumet Council Knights of Columbus meeting this week in St. Mary Catholic Church hall. Total pledges to the last expansion fund amounted to $257,928, less than $4,100 short of the original $250,000 goal. Forty-eight per cent of the pledges have been paid — $149,674 — with subject of a talk by Vincent Reinkober, Chilton, at a Calumet Council Knights of Columbus meeting this week in St. Mary Catholic Church hall.

Pastor Takes Chilton Post

Former Missionary Accepts Call to Alliance Church

CHILTON — The Rev. George Fatzinger has accepted the call to become pastor of Grand Street Alliance Church. Pastor Fatzinger succeeds the Rev. Fred Moore who left in July for a South American missionary assignment. Guest preachers conducted service at the church in the interim. The new pastor is a native of Glendive, Mont. He received his theological training at Multnomah School of the Bible, Portland, Ore., and at the New Tribes Missionary School, Fredonia, Wis. He spent some time as a homeland missionary in New York City before traveling to New Guinea where he worked with primitive tribes for four years. One of the island tribes with which he worked was noted for its history of cannibalism, the new pastor said.

Should OSC Run Area UW Centers?

Regents Told Merger Would Cut Costs, Improve Services

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Should Wisconsin State College at Oshkosh take over the administration of the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center in the Town of Menasha and other centers in northeastern Wisconsin in closer proximity to the Oshkosh College management and staff than to the university in distant Madison?

The ancient question of jurisdictional rivalry between the two elements of the state system of higher education turned through President E. H. Kleinpeter again Friday at a meeting of the board of regents of state colleges.

The discussion was provoked by a report pending before the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education which envisages creation of additional two-year liberal arts instruction branches of the university and the provision of similar branches of the state colleges in various cities during the next 10 years.

Raise Question

The relation of geographical proximity to the operation of such centers and branches was raised by the council of presidents of the state colleges, term of higher education turned through President E. H. Kleinpeter again Friday at a meeting of the board of regents of state colleges.

He used the Oshkosh and Fox Valley Center situation as an example of what he called an illogical arrangement that might be repeated in other areas of the state later. The Oshkosh school is clearly better able to operate the Fox Valley Center freshman and sophomore center than is the university 100 miles away, he said. There would be administration, staff and service economies through such a plan, he asserted.

The regents took no position as a board but members indicated such viewpoints would be put before the Coordinating Committee as it works out its long-range recommendations for the provision of more educational opportunity for college age youth through the decentralization of facilities.

Regent John Thompson of Stevens Point said he is concerned about the prospect of merging of the state college there by a series of University of Wisconsin centers at Wisconsin Rapids, Marshfield, Wausau and other near-by points, but confessed at the same time that he can see no way to alter the arrangements that have evolved thus far.

17 Ordered to Appear Before High Court in Appointments Fight

MADISON (AP) — Seventeen persons who claim top Wisconsin state office positions held by others, were served with court orders Monday. They were ordered to appear before the Wisconsin Supreme Court Friday to show cause why the court should not take original action to test their right to the jobs.

The orders advised the appointees to respond to a case started by Atty. Gen. George Thompson, a Republican, to test the power of Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds to make appointments while the Senate is not in session.

Reynolds claims he has the right to appoint new persons to jobs held by incumbents whose terms have expired without Senate confirmation.

The Wisconsin Council of Agriculture honored these men in Madison Thursday night for distinguished service to farming. They were, from the left, Dean Rudolph Froker, UW College of Agriculture, Walter Rowlands, UW professor of agricultural economics; the Rev. Robert Frerichs, dean of the Rural Church Center, Green Lake; Marshall Wiley, son of ex-Sen. Alexander Wiley, who accepted the honor for his father, Floyd Duffee, UW professor of agriculture. # County Taxpayers Oppose Fairground Shelter Project

Elimination of Cash Proposal Is Sought

OSHKOSH — Elimination of the $145,000 for a new all-purpose building at the fairgrounds and the purchase of lots on which to place it plus a cutback from $100,000 to $25,000 for the Pleasant Acres project was urged by Neenah-Menasha and Oshkosh Taxpayers Association spokesmen Wednesday afternoon.

Appearing before the Winnebago County Board at its budget hearing were Paul Glaister, representing the Neenah-Menasha Taxpayers Association, and Courtland Carrier, Oshkosh Taxpayers Association representative.

Both called attention to the trend in taxes and urged economies wherever possible. Glaister stressed holding the tax levy to at least the level it was for this year's budget.

Increase Unjustified

"Any increase is unjustified and spurious and a most unfortunate blow to the county and the residents of the county. The income of the residents is not increasing," Glaister declared.

He said there is little evidence as to the value of the guidance center to the county and pointed out the center has indicated it cannot accept new patients for months. The Taxpayers Association, he continued, recommended deletion of the $3,000 for an added social worker and another clerical worker.

Glaister continued that there should be a thorough and accurate audit as to the caseloads in the welfare department and what constitutes an active caseload, particularly in view of the proposal to add six new welfare workers next year. This is because of new state requirements as to the number of cases per worker and the number of workers per supervisor, he said.

Cut Pleasant Acres

The Taxpayers Association, he continued, oppose the $145,000 for the fairgrounds building as unwarranted and unjustified and not based on an accurate study of the county's needs. They also recommend $25,000 as the maximum for the Pleasant Acres project and suggest that this be used for a thorough study on the car for the aged.

Carrier, during his appearance before the County Board Wednesday afternoon, said the Oshkosh group also opposes the fairgrounds building item and wonders if county fairs have outlived their general usefulness, becoming more entertainment. He cited the question has been raised about moving to another area.

He said the group is extremely sympathetic to the problems of caring for the aged but wondered about building a new Pleasant Acres costing from $1,250,000 to $1,500,000.

"We urge a survey of the possible alternatives. New private facilities are being built and others might be available. We feel the entire expenditure should be do anything at this time unless the citizens committee which is promoting it brings it up."

Supv. Mrs. Virginia Nolan, institutions committee chairman, said her committee had been ed $1.5 million recreation area, "dragging its feet" in the hope and golf course near Winneconne which had been under study for his committee and proposed person by a citizens committee.

County Civil Defense Status Is Appraised

Director Lauds Neenah for Well Equipped Shelters

OSHKOSH — County Civil Defense Director George Oaks Tuesday reviewed for the Winnebago County board the status of civil defense organization within the county.

He said he had nothing but the highest compliments for Neenah where practically every one of its fallout shelters has been stocked with water, survival biscuits, medical supplies and radiological equipment.

Oshkosh has been slow in getting its buildings posted and Oaks said he has repeatedly brought this to the attention of the city manager. Menasha also has been slow.

Oaks also reported Winnebago County ranks second in the number of graduates and instructors in the medical self-help courses. More than 480 have been trained this year and several additional classes have been started since the last graduation.

Winnebago State Hospital and Mercy Hospital are having classes with about 400 being trained at Mercy Hospital. Neenah-Menasha also are about to begin this training, he indicated.

Oshkosh, he continued, has done a good job in its auxiliary police organization and Harold Davis, county radio technician, has done a good job in organizing the communications branch. Oaks pointed out a test run was made of the communications setup several weeks ago.

Shelter Managers
Each of the fallout shelters must have a shelter manager who must be trained in radiological monitoring. Since one man can not be on duty the full 24 hours, this means at least three persons will have to be trained for each shelter.

5 Men Feted By Agriculture Cooperatives

UW Educators, Clergyman and Wiley Honored

Post-Crescent News Service

MADISON—Three educators, a clergyman and a former U.S. senator were honored by the Wisconsin Council of Agriculture Cooperatives here Thursday evening.

Recognized for important contributions to agriculture and rural living, they included

Rudolph I. K. Froker, dean of the University of Wisconsin College of Agriculture, and Prof. Floyd W. Duffee and Walter A. Rowlands, of the College of Agriculture; the Rev. Robert T. Frerichs, of the American Baptist churches in Oregon, and Alexander Wiley, who served 24 years as a senator.

The citations were conferred by the Council of Agriculture at its traditional recognition banquet. Attended by 326 persons, it was a social interlude during the organization's 35th annual conference.

Wiley Not Present

Wiley, who was unable to be present, was represented by his son, Marshall, a farmer and lawyer at Chippewa Falls. The other four received their scrolls in person.

Laurel Behnke, Clintonville, at relations," Behnke added.

vice president of Badger Breeders Cooperative, read the citations. The scrolls were presented by Truman Torgerson, Manitowish, Council of Agriculture president and manager of the Lake to Lake Dairy Cooperative. Froker was honored for numerous achievements and his leadership during his career at the University of Wisconsin which began in 1927. He has been dean of the College of Agriculture since 1948.

Duffee, recently retired head of the agricultural engineering department, was credited with helping lighten the hard labor of farming and bringing better standards for rural living.

Rural Zoning

Prof. Rowlands was commended for his pioneering and continuing work in rural zoning and land-use planning.

The spiritual welfare of farm people has been the lifelong concern of the Rev. Mr. Frerichs, the Rev. Robert T. Frerichs, of the American Baptist churches in Oregon, and Alexander Wiley, who served 24 years as a senator.

Wiley was commended for his long fight to make the St. Lawrence Seaway a reality. Behnke predicted that the water route will play an increasingly important role in the economic well-being of the Middle West.

Sen. Wiley's statesmanship helped to safeguard farmers and their co-operatives, strengthen economic solidarity with Canada, and improved international relations," Behnke added.

Korean Teacher Gives Recital at Fox Valley Center

Dr. Won Kyung Cho, Korean visiting professor of speech at the University of Wisconsin in Madison, presented a Korean dance-lecture-recital Thursday night at the UW Fox Valley Center.

The program was sponsored by the Center's Fine Arts Club. Dr. Won has been in the United States since 1960, participating in a cooperative program that includes teachers from various Asian countries. He holds a graduate degree in Korean literature and in English from the University of Illinois, and a master's degree in fine arts from the University of Wisconsin.

Luther was not a "renegade priest" . . . nor was he a heretic. By God's grace, Luther was a man who rediscovered the ONLY source of a Christian's faith — the Holy Bible. Sweeping away the man decided teachings of the "church," he found the central doctrine of Scripture.

"Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to His mercy He saved us." Titus 2, 5.

As Martin Luther went deeper into God's Word he discovered that Scripture is God's revelation of Himself and His plan of man's salvation.

The congregations affiliated with the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod, and which also sponsor this service, are churches that "follow in the train of the apostles and prophets." They are congregations conducting their ministries in their communities using God's Word alone as the basis of their worship and work.

If you want to know more about the "REFORMATION" contact any of the pastors of the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod near you. They will be glad to answer any questions you might have concerning this historical manifestation of God's grace.

Two Kennedy Bills Passage Doubtful

Byrd in Charge of Hearings; Lukewarm to Both Measures

BY JAMES MARLOW — Hearings which Dirksen says may run till Christmas. The full Senate can't vote on Congress for the two programs till the committee finishes with President Kennedy has his heart the bill. The man in charge of these bill and a tax cut. The long drawn-out hearings — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Ill. Chairman Harry F. Byrd of Virginia — like other Southern says he has real doubt either Democrats is against the civil measure can "eventuate" this rights program and he has been year. As the Republicans' Sen. unenthusiastic about a tax cut ate leader, he is a man to be from the beginning. May filibuster Time, testimony and tenacity Southern Democrats, tenacious for generations in their opposition to civil rights legislation, are determined to try to bill but now it is tied up in the filibuster the civil rights bill to Senate where a long list of wit-death—if and when it gets to the nesses is waiting to testify at Senate. The Senate Finance Committee But if the Senate gets tangled

Peace Corps Worker To Marry Colombian

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — The duties of Peace Corps volunteer Esperanza Ferreira took her on a visit to the Cali City Hall. There she met the mayor, and fell in love. Miss Ferreira, 25, of Waban, Mass., and Mayor Jose Vicente Romero Camacho will be married Saturday. Miss Ferreira, who came to Colombia a year ago to do urban community development work, has resigned from the Peace Corps.

in a civil rights filibuster before it can get around to tackling the tax bill—which is likely if the tax bill gets sufficiently delayed in Byrd's committee—tax cutting seems shelved for 1963. But the civil rights bill not only hasn't passed either the House or Senate—it's going to have to pass the House before the Senate considers it—it hasn't even been approved by the House Judiciary Committee. Not Approved The full House won't be able to vote on the bill before the committee approves. But the committee hasn't approved yet because the civil rights bill is now in an almost unbelievable snarl. The Judiciary Committee, headed by Rep. Emanuel Celler, New York Democrat, has 35 members: 21 Democrats, 14 Republicans. But Northerners and liberals of both parties dominate.

As usual in considering a bill, Celler assigned the preliminary task to a subcommittee dominated by Democrats of his choosing, and he's a liberal Democrat. Under Pressure This subcommittee, under pressure from Negroes and ardent civil rights supporters to approve a bill much stronger than the Kennedy administration proposed, has done just that. Now, if the subcommittee sends its manufactured product to the full committee, the Northerners of both parties there will sweep it through over the opposition of the Southern Democrats and conservative Republicans. And what the full committee approves will go to the full House for a vote. Opposition Certain But, since opposition from Southern Democrats is certain, Kennedy feels that in the final House vote he will need all the support of other Democrats and Republicans he can get. The kind of bill approved by the subcommittee seemed too sweeping to get that kind of support. So his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, went to the committee to ask it to tone down the bill. The subcommittee, dominated by liberal Democrats from the North where Negro votes are important in next year's elections, hasn't budged. But neither have the liberal Republicans. Conferences This put the President in a stranger kind of box: Asking Republican leaders to twist the arms of Republicans on the committee to go along with the idea of a milder bill, particularly drinking water. But they added ly since Republicans have a civil rights bill of their own that they want the Democrats to approve. At this point it's a mess, although both parties have said civil rights should be kept out of the politics.

WCAC Head Blasts NFO Intimidation

Charges Farmers Are Blackmailed By Farm Group

MADISON (AP) — Truman Torgerson, president of the Wisconsin Council of Agricultural Co-operatives (WCAC), blasted the National Farmers Organization (NFO) Thursday for what he said was intimidation and rabble rousing. Torgerson told delegates at the opening of the WCAC convention that "farmers have often been literally blackmailed, into joining NFO and co-op managers have had their lives made a literal living hell." The WCAC has 96 member co-operatives who have 75,000 Wisconsin farmer members. Attacks NFO As Torgerson, of Manitowish, was attacking the NFO, its president, Orin Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., was attending the National Corn Picking Contest at Monroe. Asked to comment on any new NFO holding actions, Staley said, "The harvest will soon be completed. When it is, it will soon be an interesting winter." Torgerson said he was glad he wasn't Staley, adding: "I can't help but think how fortunate I am as contrasted with those who often make the headlines, but who for eight years haven't obtained one single victory, one constructive long-lasting gain. Empty Promises "Think of it. Eight years of milking the farmer on a program of empty promises, of preaching withholding without responsibility, of attacking managers as crooks and buddies more with buyers than with those they represent, of attacking boards of directors elected by responsible majorities as free loaders more interested in the office they hold than in doing something. "Eight years of divide and conquer, of intimidation, of attempted rule by minority, and of rabble rousing, mob fever and other irresponsibility as exhibited at Baldwin, Wis., where they invaded another group's meeting, hissed and booed speakers and even sought to take over the speaking platform."

Fluoridation May Slow Growth Of Human Cells LONDON (AP) — Two medical researchers say they have found laboratory evidence that the growth of human cells is slowed by sodium fluoride. They called for more research into the effects of fluoridation of water supplies. The results were reported in the British Medical Journal, or box, feeling as he does that the gain of the British Medical Association, by Dr. Roger Berry. So in the past few days he an Oxford University radiobiologist, and Wilfred Trillwood, director of pharmaceutical services for an Oxford hospital. The sodium fluoride used in their experiments, they said, was only one twentieth the strength of that in fluoridated idea of a milder bill, particularly drinking water. But they added ly since Republicans have a civil rights bill of their own that they want the Democrats to approve. At this point it's a mess, although both parties have said civil rights should be kept out of the politics.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The 10,000 to 15,000 pigeons that used to swarm around City Hall have been reduced to a handful — thanks to Tony D'Amato. How does he do it? "I save the city taxpayers millions of dollars," says D'Amato, 63, who is on the property department payroll. "But I am not going to tell anyone my secret." Louis Catherine, building inspector at City Hall, says, "All children and adults, we know is that Tony's solution is the most economical and the most effective we've ever heard of."

Is this the reason

Horseless carriages weren't called horseless carriages for nothing. Gas engines may have taken the place of the horse. But the horse left its mark. Early cars kept their whip sockets, long after there were no horses to whip. Dashboards once kept the horse from splashing mud on the passengers. And most cars have kept their engines up front, where the horse used to be. When the Volkswagen was designed, it was assumed that horses would never be back.

most engines still aren't in back?

So VW felt free to put the engine over the rear wheels, the spot that drove the car. That way, you don't lose your wheels' galling power from the front to the back. Or drive around with heavy drivetrains. You also get more weight over the drive wheels for firm traction when the going gets slippery. Actually, the VW's air-cooled aluminum engine would have been a sensation even in front. But the big idea was moving it to the rear. It was a great step backward in the world of automobile design.

Union President Confers With 3 Federal Trustees

MONTREAL (AP) — Stalled inland ship traffic began moving today after members of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada voted to end their four-day walkout protesting a government trusteeship.

A majority of the 2,000 SIU members along the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence Seaway voted Thursday night to go back to work after their controversial president, Hal C. Banks, met in Ottawa with the three federal trustees appointed Wednesday to take control of Canada's five maritime unions. The walkout had tied up at least 91 inland cargo vessels on eastern waters since Monday.

Agreement With Trustees Banks told SIU members in Montreal the trustees had agreed not to interfere with the union's internal affairs; that the SIU's officers and its constitution would not be changed; that the trustees would not occupy the SIU headquarters building in Montreal; that the other unions under trusteeship would not be allowed to tamper with SIU members, and that the SIU would appoint a liaison officer to work with the trustees.

In theory, the SIU men were to remain off their ships until all members of the union had voted. But by late Thursday night some were back at work and ships that had been tied up began to move along the Seaway.

"We're moving everywhere," said a spokesman for Canada Steamship Lines, largest of the fleets affected by the walkout. The three trustees, headed by Justice Victor L. Dryer of Vancouver, said they would now turn to a close internal study of the SIU and the other unions.

Calls Poverty Bigger Issue Than Moon Quest

MONTREAL (AP) — Canadian Prime Minister Lester Pearson says it is more important to tackle poverty, hunger, disease and backwardness than to put a man on the moon.

Addressing the Montreal branch of the United Nations Association, Pearson said such adversities "must be met and overcome before the world community can live in peace."

HILDESHEIM, Germany (AP) — Trapped by a sudden area, about 17 miles south of flood from the pool of their own of Hannover, expressed belief ore processing plant, 50 miners construction of a big highway were pinned below the surface approach nearby may have of the Lengede iron mine today weakened the banks.

Seven were reached in a side shaft by a six-inch drill driven from the surface and rescuers worked hard to widen the hole to about 20 inches so a "rescue bomb" could be lowered to them.

The "bomb" is a bell-shaped bucket into which a man can fit. "We're all in good shape," said a voice through the narrow shaft. "The ventilation is good." But the good news applied only to the seven.

No Word From 43 Seventeen hours after the mass of water broke into the main shaft of the 300-foot-deep mine Thursday night there was no word from the other 43. Among them were believed to be three men who first saw what was happening when the company executive and civic pool's shoreline gave way and went down to give the alarm.

Seventy-nine got out in time of water and mud poured down to the lower level. Officials explained there was no chance of reaching the trapped men through the main shaft because the flood had made it unusable.

Cause Not Learned The cause of the pool's break from its bed remained to be determined.

Railway Extends Commuter Trial To Milwaukee

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago & North Western Railway will extend until April 24, 1964, a trial period for commuter service to Milwaukee, a spokesman said Thursday.

When the old North Shore electric commuter line closed down last February, the North Western added service, including morning and evening trains for persons commuting to and from Milwaukee.

The spokesman said the trains, designed for persons living in Waukegan, Ill., Kenosha, Wis., and Racine, Wis., were put on as an experiment until Friday.

Now the trial period is being extended, he said, "so that when we make a permanent decision it will be on the basis of a fair test." He said patronage has not been good.

Demonstrator Spits At Stevenson in Disorderly Protest

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — One anti-UN demonstrator spat on South Carolina line. Adlai E. Stevenson, another man on the head with a sign and about 100 milled around him in a disorderly protest Thursday night.

The disturbance occurred after a United Nations Day speech during which Stevenson drew two standing ovations from 1,750 persons jamming the Municipal Auditorium in downtown Dallas. A front row heckler interrupted him at one point.

Police arrested one man in breaking up a crowd gathered around a car in which Stevenson, this country's ambassador to the United Nations, left the auditorium. Another demonstrator was held only briefly.

He appeared startled but unhurt by the blow on his head. Police grabbed a woman carrying the sign.

Tries to Pacify Woman "Don't arrest her; it could have been an accident," Stevenson said. Then he asked the woman "What is wrong? Can I help you in any way?"

The woman, who later identified herself to reporters as Cora Fredrickson of Dallas, snarled back "If you don't know what's wrong, I don't know why everybody else does."

Stevenson turned and walked away. Mrs. Fredrickson, 47, told newsmen she did not intend to strike him but someone pushed her arm as she pushed her placard close for the ambassador to read.

The sign asked "Adlai, who elected you?" The arrested man, accused of setting fires, was taken to a police station.

The boys were turned over to their parents, pending further action by authorities. They also were suspended from their public school until their parents meet with school officials.

The fires, and other vandalism in the church, were discovered after a rummage sale Tuesday. Fire Chief Russ Anderson said two of the blazes could have caused extensive damage had they not been found and 21 of them were set.

Evacuation Of 100-Mile Zone Urged

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Evacuation of a 100-mile stretch of South Carolina's ocean areas was urged today as hurricane Ginny's 100-mile-an-hour winds bore down on the coast.

The unpredictable Atlantic storm was expected to make its landfall late tonight. The eye may strike to the southwest of Cape Fear, N.C., near the anti-UN demonstrator spat on South Carolina line.

Coastal radar and air reconnaissance located the center of Ginny at 11 a.m. at near latitude 32.11 north and longitude 79.4 west or about 65 miles southeast of Charleston. The storm was moving on a northerly course of 8 miles per hour, the Weather Bureau said. Highest winds were estimated at 100 m.p.h. over a small area near the center. Gales extend outward 175 miles over the ocean and about 100 miles southeast of the center.

To Public Shelters Most low-lying areas in the Charleston vicinity were evacuated before noon. Many persons who fled their homes moved into 30 public shelters opened in the area. The shelters, equipped with first aid supplies and nurses, can handle 7,000 persons.

The U.S. Weather Bureau station in Charleston suggested that all schools up to 100 miles inland be dismissed by noon so that school buses would be off the highways by 1 p.m.

If Ginny's hurricane force winds pound ashore in late afternoon, she will hit the coast at high tide. Storm-wave veterans say this is the time of greatest danger because the combination causes excessive flooding.

The Weather Bureau warned that tides up to 9 feet above average low tide are expected. Ginny, which first became a hurricane last Sunday night off the Carolina coast, was reported some 80 miles southeast of Charleston. The storm was moving generally toward the north at about 8 miles per hour.

Hurricane warnings were in effect from Charleston northward 150 miles to Cape Fear, N.C.

Due in Afternoon Winds of hurricane force may reach the vicinity of Charleston this afternoon and progress up the coast to the North Carolina line tonight, the Weather Bureau said.

Gales from Ginny extended outward 175 miles over the ocean.

Brodhead Farmer National Champ For Picking Corn

MONROE (AP) — Arlyn Zee of Brodhead has found a quick route to the top in National Corn Picking Championships, taking the two-row title Thursday, one day after winning the same crown in the state contest.

The 23-year-old Zee, who farms some 300 acres with his father, had never won a competitive placement until topping the state event.

Zee defeated eight other state champions in taking the national title in competition on the Willis Riemer farm near Monroe. The national event Thursday attracted an estimated 80,000 persons.

Zee was trailed by Wesley Amstutz of Michigan and Lester Fischer of Rulo, Neb.

William Buller of Brookings, S.D., was one of two repeat champions, successfully defending his 1962 picker-sheller title. Ambrose Wagner of Blanchardville, Wis., was second and Don Wiese of Mountain Lakes, Minn., third.

Lawrence Fisher of Palmvra, Mich., repeated as the combine titlist, followed by William Smoots of Monroe, Neb., and Harvey Studt of Elmore, Mich.

Date of Easter May be Fixed

Vatican Council Prepared to Accept Universal Calendar

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council voted today to put the Roman Catholic Church on record as willing to accept a fixed date for Easter and a new universal calendar.

The cardinals, patriarchs, archbishops and bishops attending the assembly—by a vote of 2,057 to 4, with 1 null ballot—agreed the council should declare it does not oppose a new perpetual calendar, providing other Christian churches accept it and providing it retains a seven-day week, including Sunday.

Fixed Date for Easter By a vote of 2,058 to 9, with 1 null ballot the council fathers declared themselves favorable to fixing the date of Easter on the same Sunday each year.

The votes were on amendments to a chapter in a council schema on liturgy, or public worship. The chapter deals with the Church year—the cycle of liturgical seasons such as Lent and Advent.

The Church would not draw up the calendar reforms, but would leave that to civil authorities.

Rockefeller Hopes to Overtake Sen. Goldwater's Apparent Lead

BY ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — "If Dartmouth can come from behind and win in the fourth quarter, then why can't we?" Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller asked a small band of his New Hampshire supporters in ringing, pep rally fashion at a private dinner.

His audience understood and cheered the football allusion. Rockefeller used to describe his present role in the contest for the Republican nomination for president—that of optimistic underdog.

Draws Parallel Most of them had watched a few hours earlier as Dartmouth, Rockefeller's alma mater, defeated Holy Cross in the last five minutes of their game. A hard-driving offense and some razzle-dazzle football did the trick.

New York's millionaire governor hopes for a parallel development in his political contest with Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater—that he can come Rockefeller political operation.

But even his warmest admirers concede privately that the prospects remain bleak.

Every poll of significance shows Rockefeller trailing far behind Goldwater in New Hampshire, which will be the first testing ground in the fight for the nomination and in the nation at large.

Rockefeller has been having trouble recruiting Republicans of national stature to work for him. To many national GOP leaders whose support is essential, Rockefeller long has been a frequent source of dismay. His political views, the surprising developments in his private life and his harsh comments on the conduct of party affairs have alienated potential supporters.

Under Handicap Why, then, does he persist in his quest of the nomination? What makes him think he can overturn the tradition that no divorced man ever gained the Republican nomination for president?

The governor is mounting a hard-driving offensive and employing a few razzle-dazzle tactics himself.

Elaborate strategy, platoons of advisers, tacticians, aides and field troops, substantial sums of money and some delirious hopes for a parallel development in his political contest with Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater—that he can come Rockefeller political operation.

This is a companion story to yesterday's Washington summary of Barry Goldwater's status as a potential Republican presidential candidate. Robert Gray, who writes about Nelson Rockefeller, has covered his five years as New York governor and accompanied him on many campaign trips.

Accountant Has Planned Rise Of Chrysler

Lynn Townsend on Payroll 6 Years; President in 1961

BY A. F. MAHAN
DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corporation's phenomenal recovery, which is likely to result in a second 2-for-1 stock split and doubling of dividends within less than a year, was plotted by a 44-year-old accountant who went on the automaker's payroll only six years ago.

He is Lynn A. Townsend, who took over as president of Chrysler July 26, 1961. It then was wobbling, beset by internal dissection, and plagued by lawsuits and a loss of $15.7 million in the preceding six months.

Trimmed Jobs
Townsend trimmed 7,000 jobs out of middle-management and reorganized at the top. He brought a quick switch from red to black ink as auto sales began accelerating toward the record-breaking levels of this year.

Townsend joined Chrysler in 1957 as comptroller, moving over from the company's accounting firm of Touche, Ross, Bailey & Smart, in which he was a partner. He was promoted from administrative vice president when L. L. Colbert was relieved as president and board chairman four years later.

Large Profit
Chrysler directors, noting a profit of $100 million in the first nine months of this year, decided in New York Thursday to propose a new 2-for-1 stock split and to continue a 25-cent quarterly dividend afterward. Stockholders will vote on it Dec. 17.

Chrysler, the price of its stock spiraling, decided on a 2-for-1 split only last April.

Chrysler was in turmoil when Townsend took over. First, a conflict of interest charge forced out William C. Newberg, as president and Colbert, who had advanced to chairman, assumed the presidency also.

Handling Criticized
Criticism of his handling of the conflict of interest case, declining sales and losses brought about Colbert's stepping out and into chairmanship of Chrysler Canada.

Within a year, Townsend reversed Chrysler's trend. The firm showed a profit of $11.9 million in the first half of 1962, against a $15.7 million loss in the same months of 1961.

Chrysler's penetration of the total U.S. auto market had sagged from 21.8 in 1951 to a low of 8.5. Townsend moved the percentage up to 9.6 and now at 13.2.

U. S. Industrial Exhibits Sent To 32 Nations

Trade Promotion Is Purpose of Ship to Sail on Nov. 21

BY JACK LEFLER
NEW YORK (AP)—A ship will sail out of New York harbor Nov. 21, carrying exhibits from major U.S. industries to 32 countries.

It will be named the Trade-fair and its purpose will be to promote trade between the United States and the countries it visits.

The $10-million vessel, 525 feet long and of about 20,000 tons displacement, has government support but is privately financed.

Personal Contact
Rear Adm. John H. Morrill, president of the First United States World Trade Fair Ship, Inc., said of the project: "We believe that world peace and understanding among nations can best be achieved through personal contacts between peoples of the world and that this ship is one means by which closer social and business meetings can be made possible."

The itinerary includes London, Rotterdam, Hamburg, Marseilles, Bombay, Genoa, Singapore, Hong Kong, Tokyo, Sidney, Manila, Capetown and Buenos Aires.

Million Buyers
Morrill said about one million trade buyers are expected to view the exhibits each year. Registration will be by invitation and the daily rate will be held to 4,000 to 5,000 visitors.

His estimate was based on studies of the market made by the Department of Commerce, independent research and the results of the Japanese floating trade fair ship, Sakuru Maru, which sold $15 million of goods in 10 ports in four months.

The Trade-fair project is sponsored by 10 New York firms and has received support in Washington. Besides industrial firms, a number of states and the Departments of Commerce and Agriculture have indicated interest in contracting for space, according to Morrill.

Scranton Doesn't Want To Become President
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton, often mentioned as a dark horse Republican presidential candidate, said in Pittsburgh he does not want to be president.

He told a news conference: "I'm not putting myself up as any kind of candidate. I don't want to be president."

Must be Pushed

Woman Says Village, City Officials Lack Initiative

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Wisconsin city and village officers were told Thursday they often had to be pushed into progress. Mrs. Donald Clusen of Green Bay, president of the Wisconsin League of Women Voters, told delegates to the 65th annual convention of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities. "We elected you to be leaders."

She said at a workshop conference that city and village officers often lacked sufficient foresight, initiative and leadership and too often substituted studies for action.

Condemns Law
The delegates, scheduled to close the three-day meeting today, approved unanimously a resolution condemning as "an unwarranted exercise of state authority" the Legislature's approval of a bill requiring the use of voting machines in all cities over 10,000 population for the 1966 fall primary.

Another resolution urged the Legislature to "reconsider and delete" a three per cent "discriminatory" use on tax household electricity.

A third called on the Legislature to repeal the tax law provision which, the league claimed, diverted $7.2 million from the sales tax allocation for reducing local property taxes.

Goldwater Says Rockefeller Is An Extremist

Senator States He Is a Conservative And Spurns Fight

BY WALTER R. MEARS
HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater has questioned Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's credentials as a Republican.

But Goldwater insisted anew that he doesn't want to argue with other Republicans.

And the Arizona senator said he would support Rockefeller if the New York governor became the GOP choice to challenge President Kennedy for the White House next year.

Goldwater Favorite
Political surveys rate Goldwater an early favorite for the Republican nomination.

With Rockefeller in California arguing that Goldwater's conservative views are out of step with the voters, the senator jabbed back at a news conference Thursday.

A reporter asked Goldwater to comment on Rockefeller's statement that he is a moderate while Goldwater and Kennedy are at extremes of the right and the left.

Political Philosophy
"It would be very difficult to place the governor's political philosophy if he states it that way," Goldwater replied. "I am a conservative. I don't know where the governor would be but I doubt if it would be a Republican position."

Another Goldwater comment: "The governor must belong to some other party. I don't know."

But Goldwater, who has scorned a Rockefeller challenge to debate Republican principles, added "I don't want to fight other Republicans."

"There are enough opportunities with Kennedy to keep a dozen of us busy 24 hours a day."

One of the licenses is for 800,000 bushels, valued at $1,408,176. It went to Continental Grain Co. of New York. The second issued Thursday was for 600,000 bushels, valued at $969,300. It was issued to Cargill, Inc., of Minneapolis.

Cargill was the negotiator for the first and largest deal Wednesday — 1.2 million bushels of corn valued at $1,929,384.

Vice Crackdown In Pennsylvania

PITTSBURGH (AP)—State Police arrested more than 60 persons late Thursday night in a major vice crackdown on scores of clubs and taverns in the Pittsburgh district.

Some 150 troopers, led by State Police Commissioner E. Wilson Purdy, swooped down on the clubs shortly before midnight and only a few hours after Gov. William Scranton had blasted law enforcement in the city.

Those arrested were given a hearing at the State Office Building and arraigned on charges ranging from prostitution to procuring and running a disorderly house.

Purdy said the raids were based on evidence gathered by State Police undercover agents during the past two months.

"WE SERVE TO SERVE AGAIN"

in a civil rights filibuster before it can get around to tackling the tax bill—which is likely if the tax bill gets sufficiently delayed in Byrd's committee—tax cutting seems shelved for 1963.

But the civil rights bill not only hasn't passed either the House or Senate—it's going to have to pass the House before the Senate considers it—it hasn't even been approved by the House Judiciary Committee.

Not Approved

The full House won't be able to vote on the bill before the committee approves. But the committee hasn't approved yet because the civil rights bill is now in an almost unbelievable snarl.

The Judiciary Committee, headed by Rep. Emanuel Celler, New York Democrat, has 35 members: 21 Democrats, 14 Republicans. But Northerners and liberals of both parties dominate.

As usual in considering a bill, Celler assigned the preliminary task to a subcommittee dominated by Democrats of his choosing, and he's a liberal Democrat.

Under Pressure

This subcommittee, under pressure from Negroes and ardent civil rights supporters to approve a bill much stronger than the Kennedy administration proposed, has done just that.

Now, if the subcommittee sends its manufactured product to the full committee, the Northerners of both parties there will sweep it through over the opposition of the Southern Democrats and conservative Republicans.

And what the full committee approves will go to the full House for a vote.

Opposition Certain

But, since opposition from Southern Democrats is certain, Kennedy feels that in the final House vote he will need all the support of other Democrats and Republicans he can get.

The kind of bill approved by the subcommittee seemed too sweeping to get that kind of support. So his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, went to the committee to ask it to tone down the bill.

The subcommittee, dominated by liberal Democrats from the North where Negro votes are important in next year's elections, hasn't budged. But neither have the liberal Republicans.

Conferences

This put the President in a box, feeling as he does that the bill as it stands has no chance. So in the past few days he called White House conferences with House leaders of both parties.

This put him in an even stranger kind of box: Asking Republican leaders to twist the arms of Republicans on the committee to go along with the strength of that in fluoridated idea of a milder bill, particularly since Republicans have a civil rights bill of their own that they want the Democrats to approve.

At this point it's a mess, although both parties have said civil rights should be kept out of the politics.

Torgerson, president of the Wisconsin Council of Agricultural Co-operatives (WCAC), blasted the National Farmers Organization (NFO) Thursday for what he said was intimidation and rabble rousing.

Torgerson told delegates at the opening of the WCAC convention that "farmers have often been literally blackmailed, into joining NFO and co-op managers have had their lives made a literal living hell."

The WCAC has 96 member co-operatives who have 75,000 Wisconsin farmer members.

Attacks NFO

As Torgerson, of Manitowoc, was attacking the NFO, its president, Orin Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., was attending the National Corn Picking Contest at Monroe.

Asked to comment on any new NFO holding actions, Staley said, "The harvest will soon be completed. When it is, it will soon be an interesting winter."

Torgerson said he was glad he wasn't Staley, adding:

"I can't help but think how fortunate I am as contrasted with those who often make the headlines, but who for eight years haven't obtained one single victory, one constructive, long-lasting gain."

Empty Promises

"Think of it. Eight years of milking the farmer on a program of empty promises, of preaching withholding without responsibility, of attacking managers as crooks and buddies more with buyers than with those they represent, of attacking boards of directors elected by responsible majorities as free loaders more interested in the office they hold than in doing something."

"Eight years of divide and conquer, of intimidation, of attempted rule by minority, and of rabble rousing, mob fever and other irresponsibility as exhibited at Baldwin, Wis., where they invaded another group's meeting, hissed and booed speakers and even sought to take over the speaking platform."

Fluoridation May Slow Growth Of Human Cells

LONDON (AP) — Two medical researchers say they have found laboratory evidence that the growth of human cells is slowed by sodium fluoride. They called for more research into the effects of fluoridation of water supplies.

The results were reported in the British Medical Journal, organ of the British Medical Association, by Dr. Roger Berry, an Oxford University radiobiologist, and Wilfred Trillwood, director of pharmaceutical services for an Oxford hospital's group.

The sodium fluoride used in their experiments, they said, was only one twentieth the strength of that in fluoridated drinking water. But they added that their results did not necessarily mean that fluoridation of water is unsafe.

Fluoridation of water as a means of reducing tooth decay has been a matter of considerable controversy in both the United States and Britain.

Is this the reason

Horseless carriages weren't called horseless carriages for nothing.

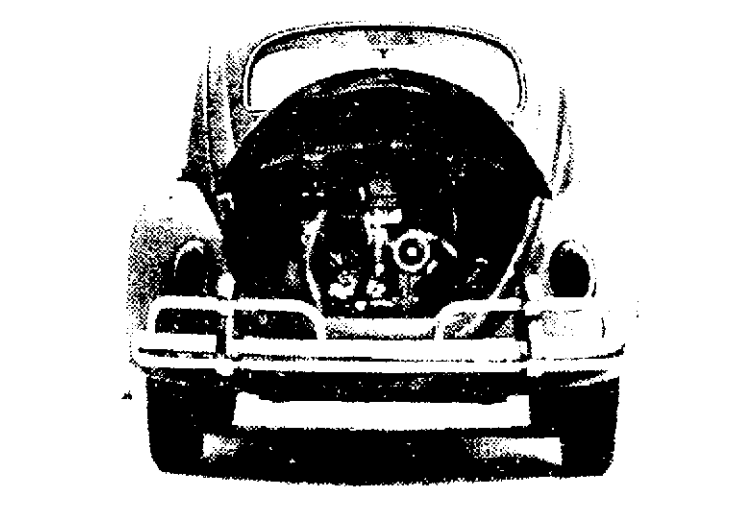

Gas engines may have taken the place of the horse. But the horse left its mark.

Early cars kept their whip sockets, long after there were no horses to whip.

Dashboard once kept the horse from splashing mud on the passengers.

And most cars have kept their engines up front, where the horse used to be.

When the Volkswagen was designed, it was assumed that horses would never be back.

most engines still aren't in back?

The VW felt free to put the engine over the rear wheels, the ones that drive the car.

That way, you don't sap your wheels' galling power from the front to the back.

Or drive around with heavy downhills.

You also get more weight over the drive wheels for firm traction when the going gets sloppy.

Actually, the VW's air-cooled aluminum engine would have been a sensation, even in front.

But the big idea was moving it to the rear.

It was a great step backward in the world of automobile design.

Your Problems

Man Forgets Taxes Buy More Protection Than Imaginable

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I earn a substantial salary but I had to float a loan to send our second son to college this year. Why? Because we Americans are being taxed out of our peapickin' minds. Last night my wife and I sat down and figured out what percentage of our combined dollars (she works, too) go for taxes of one sort or another. Starting with federal income taxes we went straight through state taxes, city taxes, sales taxes, gasoline taxes, amusement taxes, excise taxes, transportation taxes, cigarette taxes, and liquor taxes. My strength is and unquestionably subnormal. I taxed just thinking about it. Penny told me he is a difficult child and has always been "slow."

Remember those "emergency war time taxes" they slapped on us in 1942? Well, my pocket-book doesn't know the war is over.

You seem like a nice, sensible woman, Ann Landers, will you please tell me what we are getting for the billions we are handing over to Uncle Sam without a whimper? — The Guy Next Door

Dear Guy: You are getting police protection, fire protection, postal service, excellent roads, beautiful parks, schools for your children, libraries, art galleries, paved streets, purified water, welfare services, defense in time of war, free elections and the privilege of living in a country where there is no taxation without representation.

If you'd like to leave please be aware that thousands of people in other countries are eager to come to America and they would cheerfully take your place at the tax window.

Dear Ann Landers: Last week we had as guests a college classmate, her husband and their two sons, ages 13 and 8. I had not seen Penny for 15 years but we've kept in touch with Christmas letters and pictures.

We had a delightful time but after they left my husband and I had a long talk and we can't decide what to do. Penny's 8-year-old is a bright, considerate boy with lovely manners and a sunny disposition. The 13-year-old is surly, destructive.

The question is, should I write my friend and suggest special help for him? I'm sure she and her husband do not want to face the truth and therefore, they don't see it. — Walking on Egg

Dear Walking: Don't write to your friend with any suggestions. You may be sure the teachers and principal are aware of the boy's limitations. They are in a better position to evaluate and to suggest special help if it is needed.

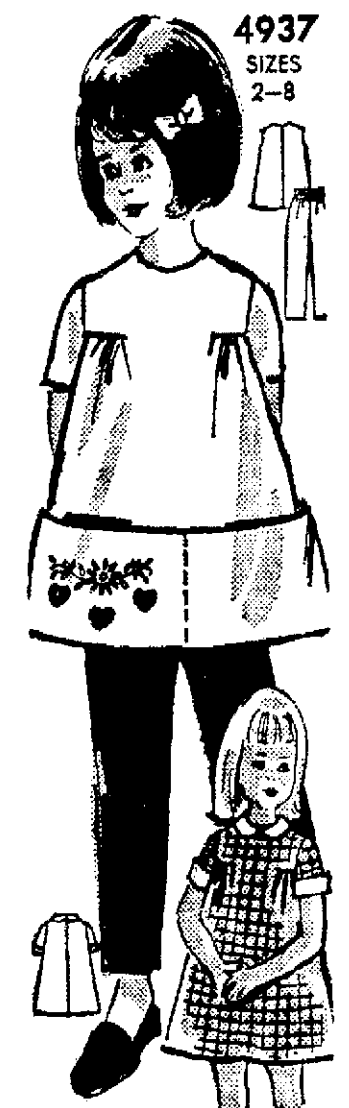

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a girl 14 years old who has a problem I can't talk over with my mother because she is the problem. Yesterday I walked into the kitchen and I caught her reading a letter which my sister had received from her boy friend. I asked mom why she was reading my sister's mail. She got mad and said, "Because I don't trust her and a mother has the right to know what's going on." Is she right or wrong? — Disappointed 14

Dear 14: She's wrong. A mother who must snoop will never know what's going on because her children will have no confidence in her. Trust begets trust. Liquor can ruin your mind, your body and your life. To learn the booby-traps of teenage drinking, write for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen Age Drinking," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright, 1963)

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD
I am normally so serene that many of my bridge friends call me the Sweet Old Boy, which they sometimes abbreviate by just using the initials. myself without needing a partner to push me off a cliff.
I didn't play this hand, and neither did you. But we can both maintain that it's the sort of thing our partners always do to us.
West opened the queen of diamonds. East took the ace of diamonds and returned a diamond.
South won with the king of diamonds and led an innocent five of clubs. West played low, and declarer climbed right up with dummy's king.
Now South could afford to lose a spade and a heart, scoring game and rubber.
"What's the matter?" East asked caustically. "Too lazy to take your ace of clubs when you had the chance?"
Wrong Culprit
East should have bitten his tongue before complaining. As Marshall Miles points out in The Bridge World, East was the culprit.
East could see that he was going to win a diamond, a spade and a heart. The contract would be beaten automatically if West had a spade or heart trick. It would be beaten if West had the ace of clubs, provided that West took the ace.
East should make sure of the ace of clubs by returning a low club at the second trick. This forces West to take the ace, and then East can sit back and wait for his tricks.
When East failed to return a club it was impossible for West to know that one club trick would defeat the contract. West had to play a low club in the hope that South would lose two
